Advice to Husbands.

The Rev. George W. Brownback, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, who advertised for a wife, received 2,000 applicants for his hand, and then married an attractive Patterson, N. J. girl, referred today to the large number of divorces granted in this county, and then spoke on "the mode husband." His text was Colossians 3:19 "Husbands, love your wives and be not bitter against them; He said in part:

The model husband is one who thinks more of his wife than himself or anyone in the world.

The successful business man keeps close watch on contracts to see that they are fulfilled. Husbands, how long is it since you have looked at your marriage contract?

"Many a man, without appreciation of the beautiful flower he has taken unto himself, becomes careless and negligent. A model husband is a man of good memory. He remembers the introduction that set his heart fluttering. He remembers the walks together before marriage. Therefore he never gets half a square ahead and then bawls out. "Susan Jane, for heaven's sake, why don't you hurry up?"

"My model husband doesn't wait until his wife dies to give flowers. A single rose, perfumed with love in life, is worth more than a dozen wreaths on the casket lid.

"When you go home put your arms around your wife and tell her how sweet and beautiful she is. It may be stretching the truth, but God will forgive you and your wife will be happy. Remember how blind you were to her faults before marriage. If you have disovered them since, keep your eyes tightly closed.

Wants to Get Audience!

We learn from Ashley sources, that "Big Jim" has challenged the Hon. T. M. Bell, Democratic nominee for congress, to a joint debate and canvas of this congressional district. If true, Mr. Bell should promptly decline. Not that he is not capable of holding his hand with Mr. Ashley, and present the Democratic contention to the people with great vigor and power, but because it would be the means of furnishing Ashley an audience to speak to.

Ashley's candidacy is dragging, and if it ever had any speed it is now lagging, and the shrewd Ohio manipulator takes this step in order to exhibit himself before respectable numbers and to get a say to the redoubtable Democrats that would come to hear Mr. Bell.

—Gainesville News.

At the Table.

The years have sped since first I led You to the table, dear,
And you sat over there alone
And I sat smiling here.
A year or two flew past and you
No longer sat alone.
A little one was in your arms,
Your darling and my own.
And then another year or so,
And some one else was there;
And Willie sat near me, you know,
While Trottie claimed your care.
The years have sped since first I led
You to the table, dear,
And you looked queenly at the foot
And I felt kindly here.
Today, as I look down at you,
On either side I see
A row of hungry little ones
All gazing up at me.
We've added leaves, one after one,
And you are far away—
Aye, thrice as far, my dear, as on
That happy, happy day.
But though we sit so far apart—
You there and I up here—
Two rows of hearts from my fond heart
Stretch down to you, my dear.
Thank God for every extra leaf
The table holds today,
And may we never know the grief
Of putting one away.

Farrow Carried Lumpkin, but Ashley Can't.

Some years ago Col. H. P. Farrow carried Lumpkin county on the republican ticket for congress, but Mr. Ashley will never do it. Col. Farrow was a citizen of the ninth district and resided in Lumpkin county and paid his taxes here. It is not this way with Mr. Ashley. He has not returned a single dollars worth of taxes during the whole five years he has been in Lumpkin and Dawson counties, simply because he has been down here from Ohio running a dredge boat for Mr. Van Vleck, and would not have been in the field had the republican leaders been able to get some one else. After failing in several efforts they fell upon Mr. Ashley, knowing that he would help to fill in with and make appearance as well as any one. Then after Mr. Ashley decided to make the race he went to Dawsonville and had officers other than the tax collector to enter his name under the head of "take ins" on the digests of 1902 and 1903, handed them two over two dollars and stopped out feeling confident that he could make the people of the ninth district believe that he has been one of her citizens for "five years." What has become of the two dollars? It has never reached the state treasury where it belongs. Do they mean to keep it up until the election and treat it out for Mr. Ashley? If they don't mind some one will yet be prosecuted for trying to help Mr. Ashley be a citizen for "five years." Why didn't Mr. Ashley come up here and pay $3 poll taxes for the years he stayed in Lumpkin if he was a citizen of this county. The tax receiver made three trips over the county for each year, and always advised when he was coming. Mr. Ashley couldn't have possibly forgotten it. No, because he told Receiver Healan of Lumpkin county, that he was not even a citizen of Georgia but lived and paid taxes in Ohio.

In St. Louis a negro has wagered his life on the election of Roosevelt. Should Roosevelt be defeated he has bound himself to commit suicide by jumping off the Eads bridge into the Mississippi. The forfeit of the other end of the bet is a $5 bill.

You may talk and write just as much as you please, but mob law will never cease until the black fiends learn to let white women alone.

The supporters of Mr. Ashly of Dawson, candidate for congress, have suspended a banner across the street near the bank, saying the people should vote for him merely as a matter of business. It seems that they should have some regard to citizenship and principle if they consider the fact mentioned in the article in this issue, where the Comptroller General says that he has examined the records and finds that this man has never paid a dollar of taxes in the state of Georgia although he came to Georgia over five years ago and became a citizen of your state and cast my lot with you and am glad of it," to quote his own language.

We would not wonder that he was glad that he came where he can live here for five years in one of the best states of the Union and never pay one cent of taxes.—Blue Ridge World.

The colored editor of the Topoko Kansas Plaindealer says, "Between Georgia and hell, of the two evils we prefer the latter." We are very glad that he does, for we had much rather persons of his caliber would go to that warm country than to come to Georgia.

Every Town Has

A liar.
A sponger.
A smartalec.
A weather prophet.

A girl who giggles.
A neighborhood feud.

A woman who tattles.
A man who knows it all.

One Jacksonian democrat.
More loafers than it needs.
A boy who cuts up in church.

A few meddlesome old women.
A stock law that is not enforced.

A widower who is too gay for his age.

Some men who make remarks about women.

A preacher who thinks he ought to run the town.

A few who know how to run the affairs of the country.

A young man who laughs every time he says anything.

A girl who goes to the post-office every time the mail comes in.

Scores of men with the caboose of their trousers worn as smooth as glass.—Murray County News.

Some one writing from Washington says that the lynchings in the South has a tendency to defeat Parker and Davis. If we must let our wives and daughters go unprotected, in order to get Mr. Parker and Davis elected, they will have to go. We had rather have a dozen democratic candidates for president defeated than to see one outraged dead girl.

A negro was recently found dead locked in a car of watermelons. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that he died of joy.

When a young man tells a girl he loves her for herself alone its equivalent to an injunction against interference from the rest of the family.

Prof. Davis, of the agricultural department of the N. G. A. College of Dahlonega, was in our county getting samples of our soil for testing purposes, and was pleased with the prospects, but will know better after the tests are made. The Professor claims that the farmer here can make a better living than those of northern states.—Cleveland Courier.

These truthful words are uttered by the editor of the Summer News: "You can tell a successful farmer by looking at his horses. You can tell a slovenly woman by looking at her hair. You can tell the dry goods hog statesman by looking at the patches on the bottom of his pantaloons. You can tell the poisonous serpent by the bluster of his tail. But the easiest thing of all, you can tell the enterprising merchant by a glance at the local paper. This is not divine revelation, but business gospel truth."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCT. 7, 1804.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

A cloudburst in Colorado last week did great damage to some parts of the country but no lives were lost.

One night last week Blue Ridge, Ga., had a blaze, destroying the Anderson hotel, Bryan's jewelry store, Quillians store and three other buildings.

Thad Pickett, who belongs to no party nor never did, is making a race for congress in the 7th district. He will get left just like he did when he ran in the Ninth.

The present drouth has caused three-fourths of the wells of Washington, Ga., to dry up. It is the most protracted spell of dry weather ever known in the history of that section.

Down near Albany cotton pickers are being paid $1.00 per hundred. Never before was it known to open so rapidly. In some parts of lower Georgia the negro cooks have gone to the cotton patch, leaving the white ladies to do their own house work.

It is now said the red ants imported into Texas to destroy the boll weevil have totally disappeared. It is thought the prairie dogs have lured them, by offer of better wages and shorter hours, into one of their villages, where they will put in the winter killing fleas.—Free Lance.

We heard a republican of Lumpkin county say the other day that he voted in the democratic primary and intended to vote for Tom Bell. This is right and all others who went into the primary should do likewise and show their manhood. If they fail to do this some people may doubt them having any manhood.

Hall county only has 12 school houses belonging to board of education, 12 whites and 2 colored. 68 school houses not belonging to board, 54 white and 14 colored. Union county has 85 school houses and only 14 belongs to county board. Only one colored school in county. White county has 22 school houses and only 5 belongs to board. Dawson county has 15 school houses and 5 belongs to board.

The editor of the Dahlonega Nugget spent a recent Sabbath at a camp meeting and secured several subscribers. We suppose he proceeded on the idea that the better the day the better the deed.—Commerce News. Yes, sir. And one preacher paid us a dollar and renewed his subscription, showing that he appreciated our efforts in the newspaper business and meant to do good by helping the poor editor. That man is on his way to heaven.

A republican and a negro made a race in the eleventh Massachusetts district, located in the city of Boston, for congress, subject to the primary, recently. The white man got 2,938 votes and the negro only received 367. If they love negroes as well as they pretend to up there why didn't they nominate this one while the opportunity was offered. Some of the Bostonians like to see negroes holding office in the south but they prefer white men in their country.

Over at Blue Ridge the Ashley sign hung up was removed by some one at night recently, and the editor of the Blue Ridge World says that money enough was soon raised by some of the democrats to replace it. It looks to us like being very weak kind democracy for any one claiming it to go to the trouble and expense of replacing a banner for the other fellow, but maybe some of them are helping to wash the government dishes under the present administration and are afraid that if they don't help a little in some manner that they will have to hunt another job.

Mining Notes.

Ten stamps of the Lockhart are being run with plenty of good ore and have enough for twenty or thirty if they only had the power.

Mr. Craig R. Arnold of the upper Etowah mine was in Dahlonega a short while last Saturday who informed us that he would soon commence putting in his new machinery at the mill and begin business actively.

The supply of gold in the United States during the calendar year of 1903 was valued at $75,501,700, $52,000 coming from the old red hills of Georgia, mostly in Lumpkin county, which is a good showing during a drouth.

The Briar Patch dredge boat was launched last Tuesday. It is a piece of workmanship that shows without any other evidence that Mr. W. E. Ricketts, the builder and contractor, understands his business. The machinery is now being installed.

The McAfie-Lind mine was closed down last week for lack of water. It may be that electrical power will be secured very soon to operate this mine, as it cost a good deal to run the pump by steam owing to the quantity of wood it requires. If this plan is adopted the mill can be kept running on full time, there being plenty of ore to supply it both day and night.

The job of cleaning out the Singleton canal was finished last Saturday, which will give a bigger head of water to operate that mine, but not as much as is needed without the power of Grindle shoals. Mr. W. B. Fry has already made a survey and estimated its cost, which we learn is less than three thousand dollars. This is certainly very cheap. Mr. Breymann, the president of the Standard Co. owning the Singleton, the shoals and much other mineral property in this county, spends his entire time at the mine. He is well pleased with the value of the ore and says that this is certain to be a big mining camp.

At a recent meeting of the Consolidated Co. in Toledo, O., Mr. F. W. Bainbridge resigned and Mr. J. P. Coats was elected in his stead. Mr. Coats will remain in Ohio and look after that end of the line, and Mr. Bainbridge will return to Dahlonega and resume his duties of carrying on the mining as he has for several months. Mr. Bainbridge's report of the progress of the work was well received and very encouraging to every member of the company present. It was determined to run 60 stamps at the Hand as soon as the present drouth breaks, and to rebuild the Findley dam and put the mill in motion. Then they will go on down to the Barlow and start it up on a larger scale.

The long protracted drouth is a big drawback to the mining operations of this section. Last week the Hand mill was only able to run about 75 hours, and since then they have only been trying to operate it during the day. At night the gate has to be shut down a time or two to let the water get strong enough to furnish electrical power to give lights.

When this plant was started less than four years ago there was ample power to run the 120 stamp mill both day and night, the crusher and much other machinery. Now 20 stamps cannot be run regularly 12 hours. But if the ore continues plentiful and valuable like it now is, and there is no doubt but what it will, the company will finish the tunnel through the Blue Ridge and strengthen amply its power by a stream in Union county, but we trust that the drouth will soon break and we will have plenty of water on this side of the mountain for all purposes.

The work on the tunnel on the west side of the hill at the Jumbo mine is nearing completion. It is a large working tunnel and has been driven sixty-five feet, and with the exception of a drift and dobris at the entrance it is through solid ore, top, sides and bottom.

and good mill ore. This tunnel taps the main lode of ore many feet under the drifts and tunnels which were opened in prospecting the property. There is not a stick of timber in any of these drifts or tunnels, though some of the drifts in the upper tunnel run out north and south many feet. We doubt if there is any other known mining proposition where such an amount of drifting and tunneling can be done on so solid and massive as to preclude the necessity of timbering. The ore in all the cuts, shafts, drifts and tunnels rather increase than decrease in value as depth is obtained. The last assays made were by Mr. Braid, of Nashville, Tenn., of the average ore in all the veins and cuts—12 assays, which show over twenty dollars per ton. These assays included the richest and poorest ore bodies. Mr. Braid is known to be a careful painstaking conscientious chemist and mineralogist, and to verify his assays panned all the places carefully and in every instance the pan showed conclusively that his chemistry was not at fault. Mr. Braid, as every other expert who has examined the property, was astonished at its richness and vastness. With the great quantity of ore of all grades in sight with a value of one-fourth of the above assays places it if not at the first, one of the finest gold mines of the world.

Carrie Nation was landed in jail at Wichita, Kansas, last week together with three other women, for breaking two large plate windows in the Mahon Wholesale Supply Companys warehouse. Women who are unwise enough to follow this old crazy woman are bound to get into trouble.

The South Georgia farmers are buying rifles with the intention of putting an end to the Before Day Club, organized by some of the mean negroes in that section. One farmer ordered one hundred from a firm in Macon last week.

The recent high waters of the Tennessee river last week have raised the mill of the old federal transport Burnside, which was sunk during the civil war. The boat had been totally submerged for forty years. Rivermen are now getting the iron works out.

The Burnside was sunk because of an error made by the commander of the military operations around Chattanooga. Effort was made to transfer some heavy engines from a larger boat to the Burnside and the weight caused the transport to sink.

The other day at Houston, Texas, Tom Watson, of Georgia, left a public hack rather than ride in it with a negro woman. Tom couldn't afford to do this after talking so about Cleveland and Roosevelt.

Chas. A. Manson, superintendent of the Southern Engraving Co., Atlanta, Ga., was bound over to the United States court last week by Com. Colquitt on the charge of counterfeiting, the bond being fixed at $8,000.

This week while Mr. J. M. Cooley of White county, was off marrying some one entered his house and stole $1,100. $1,400 overlooked by the thief is now in the bank.

A negro tutor was engaged to assist in a Chicago school the other day but when he appeared for duty the doors were closed against him by the white children.

The horseswappers and fiddlers had a convention in Cartersville this week.

The Congressional election is on Tuesday, the 8th day of November.

In Dawson county Black was elected for representative, Vandever ordinary, Taitler clerk, Orr sheriff, McClure treasurer.

We understand that Mr. Ashley said or intimated across the mountain that he would have soldiers brought down for the election. Bless your life, we did think that the gentleman had been here long enough, although not a citizen, to have friends sufficient in the ninth district for him to have one or two men to help hold the election at each precinct in it, but if this statement is true he is not, and Mr. Ashley only hopes of getting there by bayonet rule. We will assure Mr. Ashley that every ballot cast for him will be counted that way. Mr. Bell's friends could give him several hundred extra votes and then get their choice sent to congress with a majority of thousands of votes.

This comes from a gentleman down at Hoschton, Ga.: "Enclosed and find $1.00. Please renew my subscription to the best paper."

The registration book shows that "Uncle" Jackie Grizzel, of Nimblewill district, is the oldest man in Lumpkin county, being registered at 101.

Dahlonega has some of the cleverest people on earth. Very frequently a certain married man hires a buggy and carries a girl to her home in the country.

Last Monday Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bruce left on a months visit to Oklahoma Territory, accompanied by Mr. Henley Wimpy, who may later locate in the West.

We are gaining in weight, and of course good looks every day. When an editor is fat and pretty, you may know that the climate is healthy and times prosperous.

A good paper is a great help to my community, and it is the duty of every citizen to patronize it, for very often they will want something said or written that is worth more than twice the amount they pay for a paper.

Those having decayed teeth and wish them filled, will bear in mind that Dr. Croxford, a first-class dentist of Hiwassee, Ga., will be in Dahlonega by the 15th of October, for the purpose of doing all kinds of dental work.

The power got so weak down at the North Georgia Electric plant, on account of the low water in the river that a change had to be made and now the street cars in Gainesville are being propelled by the power of the Dunlap plant.

Gentle reader, don't forget to renew your subscription to The Nugget when the time expires. It takes too much time and postage for us to notify you when it is up. Don't wait for us to do this any more but send in the cash, and as the preacher says when you give him money, "God will bless you." Why not for it is going for a good cause.

The Ashley school is without a teacher again and some of the patrons say they will have to send their children to Dahlonega in order to get the benefit of any part of the school fund. We understand that the trustees wanted Mr. Fivay to teach ten hours a day and rather than have any trouble he stepped down and out, being aware that Mr. Bryson, a former teacher, had been rocked by some on night.

Our entire stock of merchandise is offered for the next 20 days at greatly reduced prices for cash: $10.00 suits at $7.00; $7.50 suits at $5.00; $1.75 hats at $1.25; $1.75 shirts at $1.25; $1.50 shoes at $1.25; $1.25 shoes at $1.00, and everything else in proportion. When you have examined our stock you will certainly be convinced of more than we can tell you.

CAVENDER CREEK MISCELLANEOUS.

Last week before John Carroll was carried off to Atlanta to appear before Judge Newman for having been running a blind tiger in Dahlonega for some time, selling to boys and men all alike, and poisoning the liquor so that it made some of them wild, Samuel Gondlock, colored, a preacher from Gainesville, went up to the jail to see the defendant before he took his departure, as he had always claimed to be a strict member of the church, and during the conversation John told Sam that he felt like the "holy ghost was with him." Sam afterwards said to some person that if this was the case John ought to have been in jail long ago.

Mayor Baker has been down to Atlanta this week.

See sheriff's sales and other legal notices in this issue.

Col. Charters has been attending Union Superior Court this week.

The registered list of voters in Lumpkin county for this week's election was 1212.

The party selling wine here is going to get into trouble along about court if not earlier.

We meant to say that 175 students had entered college and 200 were expected to be enrolled by Christmas last week.

Col. William B. Hamilton, after being absent in St. Louis and other places for a few days returned last week and left for Gainesville on Tuesday.

Merideth Prewit, of this county, was carried to Atlanta last week charged with violating the revenue law, having been bound over by Coon, Baker.

The residence of Mr. Coon Oliver was destroyed by fire in Highwater district last Sunday night. No one was at home and nothing in it was lost. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Gen. Hardin, of Kentucky, who has interests in the mines and near Dahlonega, was here this week. The General likes to come and take a peep at the mines occasionally and it is always a pleasure to the people of Dahlonega for him to be here and we wish it was so that he could come oftener.

The other day while Messrs. Dot Gaddis and Wm. Cavender were driving along together in a buggy talking, returning from Canton, their mules stopped suddenly and commenced backing. The riders looked around and discovered a big rattlesnake crawling across the road in front of the team. It is a little strange that those mules knew that there was danger.

Last week the registrars of Lumpkin county found where persons had registered as many as five times. They should not be guilty of this any more and the tax collector should see that it is not done. The collector gets five cents from the county for each name registered by him and when a person registers five times he receives 25 cents, showing that the county is losing money, which should be looked after more carefully.

Squire Worley informs us that Mr. Geo. F. Tiner did not first apply to him for a state warrant against Will Elrod last week for stealing melons before obtaining a lunacy warrant from Judge Huff, but on the other hand he did issue one when asked for it. It's a hard matter to tell what to do with this poor boy. Not long ago he was confined in our jail for refusing to perform road work and a physician sent up word that he did not have good sense and Judge Huff ordered him released.

We claim that we want a railroad to Lumpkin county but as soon as an enterprise of this kind begins some people seem to be too anxious to recover all the money they can possibly get for alleged damages—often a sum that is out of reason, and if the law was changed so plaintiffs would have to pay all costs when this was done it would stop many a law suit and save the county hundreds of dollars. Why charge a railway or mining company more damages than an individual? Ask these enterprises only what is just and right, so they can pay it and not be unjustly molested in their work of building up the country. When we fail to do this we are retardating the upbuilding of our section. For instance, look at our friend Mr. Geo. Burns who no longer than last week entered suit against the Gainesville & Dahlonega Railway Co., for allowed $2,000 damages to 15 acres of land which he only returns its value to the tax receiver of Lumpkin county for fifty dollars. How can we expect foreign capitalists to invest here under such conditions as these?

A little child of Mr. Will Patterson died in Mill Creek district this week.

If that sensation comes to light there will be two applications for divorces and the old women will have something to talk about for several months.

We have had in our city this week Mr. Long, of New York, who went up to see the Jumbo gold mine and what he observed was pleasing to the eye.

A big crowd of students and a few of our citizens attended Yellow Creek campmeeting last Sunday. This winds up the camp-meetings in this section.

If our merchants using electric lights would cut them all off but one when they close up at night it would enable the electrician to run the others more regular until the present drought ends.

Mr. W. C. Duckett, formerly of Lumpkin county but now of Pickens, left last Friday for Colorado, where he goes to look after the estate of his father, Mr. James Duckett, who recently died out there.

Quite a number of our Chestate friends were down last Saturday making a bond for Merideth Prewit, who was sent to Atlanta last week charged with illicit distilling. Those Chestate people will stick to each other in time of need.

Hon. Thomas M. Bell, our next representative in congress, spent Sunday night and a portion of Monday in Dahlonega on his way home from Union county, where he had been to meet and talk with some of the voters. Tom has many friends in Dahlonega who are always glad to see him in our midst.

Geo. Magness, who stands charged with violating the Internal revenue laws and left Lumpkin county some time ago to escape its clutches, we learn was arrested in Tennessee last week and lodged in Knoxville jail by some of the revenue officials of that state. From Knoxville he goes to Atlanta, Ga., where he will be given a hearing before the proper tribunal. When a person violates any of Uncle Sam's laws it is almost useless for them to try to get out of his long strong arms.

We have one or two enemies who sometimes go out of their way a block or two to keep from speaking to us. They need not go to all this trouble for we have adopted a new plan for our guides to save them embarrassment hereafter. When we see them coming and it is a female we will put on the ugliest dough face we can find, up side down, so their will be no chance for a kiss, and if it is a man we will stand on our head, turn a double summersault and do all kinds of monkey actions so as to attract his attention and renew his love.

On Friday last a new rule was requiring them to be in their rooms at 5 p.m., sun time, instead of 7, as heretofore. At the ringing of the bell all obeyed orders and everything was quiet until 7 o'clock when about 50 of the cadets came marching down from dormitory No. 1, with "hep! hep! hep!" who were joined by a few others on the court house and after giving a few yell were shortly out of sight. In a few moments they came again and went down towards the Methodist church, Maj. Tissell was soon out and following them. In a short time he came marching back all those who didn't run, with their hands on each other's shoulders and on up to the dormitory. We believe in strict discipline but we didn't like the way they had to carry their hands unless being guilty of some greater offense than this. The next day all the students of the college sent in a petition to the faculty asking that the five hour rule be abolished and the seven adopted as heretofore. The boys must have the latter in order to be satisfied for the other keeps them confined to their rooms too long.

Prof. Calloway, of Dahlonega, will preach at Concord church next Sunday.

Joe Forest has worked in seventy-five wells during the drought in Dahlonega this year.

A number of the young people of Dahlonega enjoyed a hop at the Dahlonega Hotel last Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Perry, wife of Dr. Perry of Atlanta, came up this week to visit her brother here, Mr. T. S. Littlefield.

Hon. G. D. Bruce has returned from Blue Ridge, who will be here now for the purpose of doing photographic work of all kinds.

Mr. Andy Burges, of Shoal Creek district, is still in bed and unable to help himself, caused by a fall some two weeks ago.

Fodder has been selling from the wagons here at $1.20 to $1.50. The price depends upon how bad a person needs it. If out and can't get it cheaper they will pay the latter price.

Maj. Tissell is having the students ball ground put in good shape. They contributed over $150 for this purpose the other day, the Major giving five dollars of their which shows how well he likes to see the boys enjoy themselves in anything that is right.

Mr. Joe Berry Thomas, of our county, writes us as follows: "I was thinking before reading about Mr. Edwards having a stalk of corn 18 feet long that Mary Thomas, who raised one measuring 14 feet was the longest. I think I can get up with every body on here to each other in time of need."

Hon. Thomas M. Bell, our next representative in congress, spent Sunday night and a portion of Monday in Dahlonega on his way home from Union county, where he had been to meet and talk with some of the voters. Tom has many friends in Dahlonega who are always glad to see him in our midst.

Last Saturday while Mr. John

Jones, of this county, was standing up in his wagon holding the break with one hand and the lines with the other the handle slipped out of the ring and Mr. Jones fell pitched off of the wagon and fell with all his weight on one shoulder, dislocating it. The old gentleman came to town and had Dr. Whelchel to replace it.

On Monday night at the city council meeting the marshal was instructed to enforce the ordinance prohibiting cattle from running at large within the corporate limits of Dahlonega after night. This means that all cattle including calves, must be kept up at night. The marshal does not have to empower any of the cattle according to the printed ordinance, but only has to make a catch against any owner of cattle violating this ordinance as is done in other cases and a fine is imposed by the mayor.

The people of Dahlonega have had a proposition made to them about the construction of a railway from Gainesville to this place that puts a road in the reach of our citizens if they will only give a little aid—the less that has ever been asked by any company. It is this: A new York company proposes to furnish the money to build the Gainesville & Dahlonega Railway to our town if their citizens will endorse the bonds and furnish the right of way from the county line to the corporate limits of Dahlonega. In other words, the railway will be built provided we furnish the ground upon which to construct it. Did you ever hear of a similar proposition? As soon as this matter was submitted by Gen. Warner quite a number of our citizens met in Capt. Ingerson's office last Saturday afternoon to discuss the matter. Dr. Glenn Ingerson selected secretary. After which Mr. J. F. Moore explained the object of the meeting and all present were made acquainted with the facts, and meeting with the approval of each, a letter was prepared, with the signature of all, and addressed to the directors of the Gainesville & Dahlonega Railway Co., which was to have met in Gainesville yesterday, signifying their willingness of accepting the proposition. What was done at the Gainesville meeting will be told our readers next week.

Some of our farmers who reside above Dahlonega, planted several acres of cotton this year as an experiment, to see whether it would mature before frost so near the foot of the Blue Ridge. We are glad to say that it is a success.

The stalks are large and the cotton nice. Other farmers of that section will put several acres in this staple article next year, maybe as much as a hundred acres will be planted. It is a considerable distance to a gin, but Mr. B. R. Meaders says if they will cultivate this much he will put up one for their convenience here in Dahlonega. This saves them from having to go so far before they can be waited upon.

Seeing that some people who have been using grape style, do less work and frag outdoors appearance live happier and more prosperous than we do, caused us to try it. The first start was made this week by procuring a nice rocking chair which we use at the dining table. By putting it in motion while eating are away from our visitors just half the time and therefore are getting half rations only, the other part style. We are a little weaker than common and don't believe we are going to like this new plan, for we always eat a full stomach, for "poor quality" is very often disgusting.

Mr. Ashley's letter will receive attention next week.

Mrs. "Babe" Low died near Aurora last Wednesday.

Messrs. John H. Moore and M. J. Williams went down to Atlanta last Tuesday.

Mr. F. J. Williams is now behind the counter at the store of Mr. M. J. Williams.

Mr. Geo. Frix bought the Mayhew property at sheriff's sales here last Friday for $50.

Mr. Oscar Palmer, an old graduate of the N. G. A. College, has been up from Atlanta this week talking insurance.

Parties from Blue Ridge in Dahlonega this week, inform us that several houses have been set on fire since the first burning.

A little four-year-old child of Mr. Will Clements was drowned in a pond of water at the Calhoun mine last Tuesday while out of play.

A wedding took place over at Yellow Creek camp ground last Sunday. The contracting parties were Mr. Marlow Gilstrap and Miss Ethel, daughter of Mr. John Redmond. All of this county, The ceremony was performed by Squire George Burges.

At a meeting of the city council last Monday night an order was passed for the street committee to have both public wells sunk deeper and the pumps put in good fix, so ample water could be furnished. The marshal was instructed to enforce the cattle ordinance at night and see that none run at large hereafter. The marshal's report for September was read and received, which is as follows: Sanitary taxes collected, $126.20, Street tax, $43.50. Cemetery lot, $20. Oil barrel sold, 65 cents. Broom sold, 50 cents. Fines collected, $8.00.

On Tuesday many people were present at the launching of the dredge boat of the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Company, constructed by Mr. W. E. Ricketts, of Dahlonega, for the purpose of gold mining in the Chestate river on the celebrated Briar Patch property. It was a perfect success, making a happy occasion that will long be remembered. It was christened by Mrs. W. A. Charters, of Dahlonega, who bursted a bottle over the bow of the boat, naming it "Good Luck." Those from Dahlonega were: Mrs. W. E. Ricketts, Mrs. W. P. Price, Jr., Mrs. J. E. Blackburn, Misses Tissell, Tregent, Willie Ricketts, Bonnie Ricketts, Dr. Head, Wm. Ricketts, A. P. Tregent, G. H. McGuire, Louis Meaders, Harry Tregent, W. P. Price, Jr., and number of people from Aurora and other parts of the country.

PHILIPPINES AT WORLD'S FAIR

Complete Exhibition of Island People and Industries Covers Forty-seven Acres and is Independent of Larger Show.

Not even in the heart of Manila city could there be found forty-seven acres of Philippine territory as interesting as that amount of space covered by the islands' display at the World's Fair. Here is an exposition within an exposition, a little wheel that revolves independently of the larger one encompassing it.

Score of buildings are filled with exhibits, native life is depicted by as many different villages as there are tribes on the islands, military drills are given by Philippine troops, and concerts are rendered by native bands. For its amusement features the Philippine exposition has the humorous Igrote who dines on dog meat, and visitors are entertained by Visayan actors and actresses. Nothing is lacking to make the show complete.

The Administration building is a reproduction of the government offices in Manila, while the Art and Education building reproduces in miniature the cathedral within the walled city, even the mellowed tints of age being faithfully rendered. A section of the ancient but still serviceable walls of all has been reconstructed to serve the double purpose of a gateway to the show and a museum of arms and war relics. The other main edifices are types of Filipino homes, being built of unseasoned timber, bamboo and rattan, with thatched roofs and broad verandas.

The Philippines are a people nesting under the trees, some of the houses perched high up among the boughs, others on piles above the waters of the Arrowhead lake, all of them actual dwellings fashioned of native materials by native workmanship and distinctive in their form and purposes of their occupants. Here are women weaving a coarse cloth on a rude hand loom, others making baskets, others tending irrigated fields of rice. One group of men are in village council, trying an offender according to their ancient custom, others are busy making a circular race to the thump of tom-toms and the clang of brass gongs; others, again, are smelting iron by the aid of a primitive but most ingenious bellows, the constituent parts of which are a bamboo tube and an air-tight摸 of feathers working theron like a plunger of a syringe. And these are but a few of the almost endless variety of life pictures.

The ethnological problem is a somewhat complicated one; but, although there are no fewer than sixteen races represented and the number doubtless the same, the conjecture, each race speaking its own dialect and following its own customs, all may be roughly classified into four groups—the true aborigines or non-Malays, the pagan Malays, the Christian Malays and the Mohammedan Malays.

The first are the dyer Negroes, with dark skin, curly hair, who wear scanty raiment, proficient in the use of the bow and poisoned arrow, a race of nomads and forest dwellers, pagans pure and simple. They live in their own stockaded village.

Next to them are the Igorrotes, who, though originally a race of scanty raiment, proficient in the use of the bow and poisoned arrow, a race of nomads and forest dwellers, pagans pure and simple. They live in their own stockaded village.

The Christian Malays, produced by the second wave of invasion, are represented by the Visayans, a tall and handsome race, dressing well, living in pretty homes, skilled in weaving, dyeing, basket making, hat making, wood carving and other handicrafts, musicians of no mean merit, the one group of natives who came early and throughout have been under the influence of the early Spanish settlers.

Very different are the Moros, who swept into the islands from the Malay peninsula last of all, bringing with them their Mohammedan religion, also a knowledge of gunpowder, acquired with the Koran, and certain features like their teachers, pirates, blood-thirsty, treacherous and vindictive fellows, ever at war among themselves and with the whole outside world. Despite their ferocity they are a clever race, dress handsomely, have their servants and their slaves and are expert seafarers, while long-distance sailing on the high seas has surrounded them with many of the luxuries and conveniences of western civilization.

The buildings of Agriculture, Forest and Fisheries show all the varied natural products, also the extremely popular tobacco, yet in its various forms in the Women's building, are introduced to a number of native manufactures, including the beautiful fabrics from the just, banana and pineapple fibers. This information is collated in the Building of Commerce, where a uniform system of taxation and method of accounting is followed. In one hall are samples of all the articles produced for export, among which manila fiber, of course, holds the chief place of prominence, while in a second hall are all the manufactures from every country that are imported and find a ready market in the Philippines. Thus the business man gets a dual lesson. He sees what he can profitably take from the islands, and also what he may profitably send to them. When it is added that a large number of representative Filipinos have been sent over to visit the exposition and study American business methods and manufactures, it will be recognized that great benefit both to the islands and to the world at large must result from this work of mutual enlightenment.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had resigned myself to a long time of rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as you will of course know, I decided upon good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the result from the first use of the bottle, and took them more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine medicine and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

Climate of September, 1904.

The following is furnished by Prof. B. P. Gaillard, of the N. G. A. College of Dahlonega:

Monthly Mean 70, which is not normal. Highest temperature 91, on the 27th. Lowest temperature 48, on the 10th.

Rainfall—51 one hundredths of an inch, which is 8 and 77 one hundredths below normal, and the lowest September record for 12 years, the next lowest was 65 one hundredths in 1897. The lowest rainfall for any month recorded in the same time was 47 one hundredths in October, 1892. The highest September record was 12 inches and 8 one hundredths in 1898. The highest yearly rainfall recorded for any month was 12 inches in June 1900. The highest yearly rainfall was 72 and 84 hundredths inches in 1900. The lowest, 54, and eighty six one hundredths in 1899. September posts are recorded in 1866, 1869, 1901, 1903, all light and only in low places.

OCTOBER WEATHER.

Normal temperature for October for 12 years is 59. The highest recorded in that period was 89 in 1897. The lowest, 25 in 1893. The highest rainfall was 8 and 32 and one hundredth inches in 1898. The lightest 47 one hundredths in 1892. Killing frosts occurred in October in 1893, 1894, 1896, 1898,

Gift to The College.

A few days ago Col. W. P. Price presented to the N. G. A. College a bronze facsimile of the seal of the Confederate States. It bears the legend, "The Confederate States of America, 22 February, 1862—Duo Vindice."

Col. Price is an enthusiastic veteran of the lost cause, and loses no opportunity to preserve its traditions. It will be an interesting thing for students of the coming generations to see this representation of the cause for which their fathers went through the real maneuvers of Manasses. And the college has as good a friend in Col. Price as the confederacy had.

The library has also received lately another gift of books from Mrs. H. D. Ingalls, who frequently favors the college in this way.

It is claimed that 300,000,000,000 campaign documents, aggregating 15,000,000 tons in weight, are to be distributed from Democratic headquarters. This represents the work of two months. As the Republican distribution began a month earlier, its literature will aggregate at least 450,000,000,000 documents, or 22,500,000 tons. There is a total of 37,500,000 tons, Thomas Jefferson Not an Atheist.

The following correspondence we know will prove interesting to our readers. It is not to be found in any volume of letters, or life of Thomas Jefferson, that we have seen. The article was furnished to us by Col. Wm. B. Hamilton, of San Antonio, Texas, who has been in Dahlonega for a short time on a visit to a relative, and to rest and recuperate. He is a grandson of Col. John Hamilton "fayman," who wrote the document which we now publish:

The Chowan association in 1807 met at Cashie Meeting house, Bertie county, on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of May. At the meeting the year previous at Salem church an address to Thomas Jefferson, who was then President of the United States, was presented to the association by Col. John Hamilton, a prominent layman in the association, which was approved by the association, and by its order signed by the Moderator and clerk, and forwarded to the President. The address was as follows:

"To the President of the United States:

"Sir:—Under Divine protection, the ministers and messengers of the several Baptist churches of the North Carolina Chowan association, held at Salem, on Newbiggin Creek, in Pasquotank county, in the district of Edenton and State of North Carolina having met by appointment to offer up the sacrifices of a broken and contrite heart to the Great Author of their being for the unbounded display of goodness and of tender mercies bestowed upon the children of men; and while rendering adoration, prayer and thanksgiving with deep humility, for the great and unspeakable Gift, that brought life and immortality to light through the Gospel, they feel a profound sense of the bounty received by the hands of the Supreme toward the several churches of our connection, by the outpouring of the Spirit upon them; not only effecting a great increase of members, but in the substantial interest of the churches, being supported and strengthened by a very great and uncommon measure of Christian love, union and harmony among the brethren. While we have great cause of thankfulness for all these bounties and mercies, we have felt the deepest gratitude to be due for the civil and religious liberties we enjoy under the administration of the government over which you, sir, at present, preside; for which liberties our fathers have in time past suffered at the stake, have bled and died.

"The sense of contrast between the present moment and a late period, when we were feeling alarmed at the threatened invasion upon the general toleration of a free conscience in the worship of a God of our fathers; we have now great reason to shout with loud acclamations of joy and praise, that we can live under our own vine and under our fig tree in peace. And while we pray that the sons of liberty may be long held at the helm of government to rule and govern the United States, we feel the strongest emotions to be thankful that under your patronage and administration there is none shall make us afraid."

"Living under a government of our own choice, where the right men find an equal and impartial distribution, how much ought we to rejoice at the envied happiness and freedom of our fellow citizens throughout these States, unrivaled and unequalled by any nation on this terrestrial globe, and in the midst of natural wealth, prosperity and peace, added to extent of empire. Under the wise policy of your administration, we feel no danger of you violating your trust or attempting to endanger the happiness of the people who have chosen you as their chief and head. And while our prayers and praises are due to the Sovereign Ruler of the Universe who has made you an instrument in His hands to give such blessings to such a people, we pray that the God of Battles may be your sun and shield, that He may give you grace and glory, and that He may withhold no thing from you. And may we devoutly permitted to add our prayers to the Great Disposer of Evens, if it is His will, that your life devoted to public good from the commencement of our glorious Revolution to the present day, may be prolonged with blessings to yourselves and common country.

"Signed by order of the association:

"George Outlaw, Moderator.

"Lemuel Burkitt, Clerk.

"May 20th, 1807."

At the meeting, May 2, 1807, before referred to, the President's reply was read.

"Washington, June 24th, 1806.

"Sir:—I have duly received the address signed by yourself on behalf of the ministers and messengers of the several Baptist churches of the North Carolina Chowan association, held at Salem, and I proffer my thanks for the favorable sentiment which it expresses towards myself personally.

"The happiness which our country enjoys in the pursuits of peace and industry ought to encourage that cause to all its citizens and to kindle their hearts with gratitude to the Being under whose Providence these blessings are held. We owe to Him especial thanks for the right we enjoy to worship Him, every one in his own way, and that we have been singled out to prove by experience the innocence of freedom in religious opinions and exercises, the power of reason to maintain itself against error, and the comfort of living under laws which assure us that, in these things, "there is none who shall make us afraid." I am peculiarly gratified by the confidence you express, that no attempt will ever be made by me to violate the trust imposed in me by my fellow citizens or to endanger their happiness. In this confidence you shall never be disappointed. My heart never felt a wish unfriendly to the general good of my fellow citizens.

"Be so kind as to present my thanks to the churches of your association, and assure them of my prayers for the continuance of every blessing to them now and hereafter; and accept yourself my salutations and assurances of great respect and consideration.

"THOS. JEFFERSON.

"Mr. George Outlaw."

Lumpkin County School Statistics.

State School Commissioner Merritt's report for 1903 shows the following statistics concerning the public schools of Lumpkin county which will be of much interest to many of her citizens: Number of school houses belonging to county board 27, 25 white and 2 colored. Value of white school houses $5,200; colored $900; total value $5,500. Number of school houses belonging to board of education 4, 3 white and 1 colored; total value $450. Only 1 school house built last year; value $300.

It will be seen by the report that several hundred children of this county do not go to school at all.

Having Its Troubles,

The Dillon (Wyo.) Doublejack is having its troubles. The editor says: "Editing a newspaper is a nice thing. If we publish jokes, people say we are rattlebrained. If we don't, we are fossils. If we publish original matter, they say we don't give them enough selections. If we give them selections, they say we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church, we are hypocrites. If we remain in the office, we ought to be looking out for news items. If we go out, then we are not attending to business. If we wear old clothes, they laugh at us. If we wear good clothes, they say we have a pull. Now, what are we to do? Just as likely as not some one will say that we stole this from an exchange. So we did. It's from the Wyoming Derrick."

Georgia Marriage Said to Be Illegal.

An attorney here has discovered that there existed in Georgia many years ago, and in force as late as 1854, a law requiring every male applicant for a marriage license to give a bond to the county showing that he was financially able to properly support the woman he was intending to marry. At different times a different sum was named, ranging from 500 pounds sterling to $500.

Later research revealed that this law was never repealed and consequently that all marriages made since '54 are not strictly legal.

Prominent attorneys say that all kinds of legal complications may ensue. —Forest Blanche.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCT. 14, 1904.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

All the white republicans in the south should cease voting until they are recognized in preference to negroes when it comes to filling important offices.

At the last election the republicans swept the field in Gilmer county, and the democrats carried Banks for the first time in twelve years. In Union county all the democrats were elected except Mr. Brooksher, for tax receiver. A crippled republican of a good deal of prominence made the race and won enough sympathetic democrats to vote to the win the race.

The negroes of Macon, Ga., had a mass meeting one night last week in the interest of Roosevelt and the republican party. A big package of Roosevelt's letters were distributed to the crowd, causing them to decide to have a big rally for him and the republicans of Georgia. We do not expect that Lumpkin county will be represented at this dark gathering, as the most of the republicans not guilty the party here are endeavoring to be lily white.

During the present administration a certain white republican office seeker pulled off his hat when entering the door of negro collector Rucker's office in Atlanta when applying for his endorsement. We would go hungry a long time before we would do this, but if you want office bad enough to appear before a negro and how and scrape the toes of your shoes off, vote the republican ticket. The man who did this resides in Dahlonega. What about it?

Col. Day published a card recently in the Mt. Airy Protectionist saying that Mr. Ashley is eligible to hold office because he has produced a certificate from Judge Harbin, ordinary of Dawson county, stating that Mr. Ashley was a citizen of Dawson and had paid his taxes for 1902 and 1903. When did Mr. Ashley register and pay these taxes? In April, 1904, after he had decided to make the race for congress. Who did he pay them to? Not to the tax collector, because the money has never been sent to the state treasury where it belongs. Why didn't Mr. Ashley pay these taxes to the collector and get his receipt and certificate for the same?

A strong effort is being made by some of Mr. Ashley's friends to have Col. H. P. Farrow removed from the Gainesville post-office because the Colonel didn't support Mr. Ashley in the republican convention held at Dahlonega some time ago. We do not know whether Mr. Ashley expects to claim Gainesville as his home and apply for it later or not. There is no telling, for he must be given something for making the race for an office that no other republican in the district would do. Of course it is a republican fight, but if we had our choice we would take a man like Col. Farrow, whose home you know before, during and after the campaign.

Not half the children of Georgia are receiving the benefits of the school fund levied and collected for them. Who is to blame? No one but parents. The school report furnished us by the State School Commissioner for last year shows that there are 703,138 children of school age in Georgia and only 248,480 these attended school, $45,683 spending their time in idleness, yet the tax payers have to pay just the same amount of money as if every one of these children were attending school. Let the next legislature make it compulsory for every child in Georgia to attend school, at least three months in the year, if not four. There is not a man in the state who cannot send his child to school this long. If this is not done, cut off the appropriation.

Ashley Denies the Charge.

In a letter from Mr. Ashley last week concerning the affidavit published from Tax Receiver Healan he denies the statement he made to Mr. Healan of Lumpkin county concerning his home being in Toledo, Ohio. He says:

"I moved to Dawson county December 19, 1901 and had no tax-exemptions to return, and I made no such statement to him as he implies in Lumpkin county for 1902. I have my receipts from Dawson county for years 1902 and 1903. All the property I held in Lumpkin and Dawson counties was my share in the Georgia Dredging Company beginning with 1901, and later the Etowah Valley Company until the year 1904, when I returned personal property, about $1000.00, all in Dawson county. I paid all such taxes where and when due, not only in Lumpkin and Dawson but in other counties. In December 1900 I gave $100 to help build the Ashley school house in Lumpkin county, as Col. Price will tell you. Since then I have expended more than $150 in public roads and have given to the schools and churches over $150, not to mention private charities of even a greater extent, almost all in Dawson and Lumpkin counties."

Mr. Healan informs us that he has examined the digest and finds that it was 190 instead of 1902 but says he is not mistaken in reference to Mr. Ashley saying that his home was in Toledo, Atlanta or Ohio. There is plenty of evidence that Mr. Ashley has made wrong statements concerning his citizenship. While working for me in Lumpkin county last year he remarked to a gentleman "if it doesn't pay I will sell out, go home and quit the d-n country." Only a short time ago Tax Receiver Gaddis, of Dawson county, while on a trip to relatives up in Hightower district, Lumpkin co., before Mr. Ashley was spoken of for congress, said that he never saw such a man—that he could get no taxes out of Mr. Ashley because he claimed Toledo, Ohio, as his home. It's true that he registered and paid his taxes for 1902 and 1903 in Dawson county. When did he do it? About April 1902, after deciding to run for congress. Mr. Ashley's name was never on a road list or in the jury box of either county and he never failed to go to Toledo to vote. The road work performed was so he could transport some heavy machinery with more ease. Yes, Mr. Ashley did give $100 for a school house, but he never paid any taxes on this or any other. Maybe this money belonged to someone else. But if it didn't this is no reason that he should be sent to congress. Other northern men have been even more liberal to us here than this and never thought of asking for an office. Mr. Bostwick, of New York, donated the Calhoun mine to the N. G. A. College which was afterwards sold for $10,000, and the money used for the construction of a large magnificent hall near the college.

As before stated we said that Mr. Ashley had made wrong assertions about his citizenship. This we can prove. In his letter of acceptance Mr. Ashley says that he has been a citizen of Georgia for five years and is proud of it. Now let us see about this. Mr. Ashley commenced visiting Dahlonega in 1900, and every time he stopped at the hotel here from August 8th, 1900, up to February 7th, 1902, he registered from Toledo, O. Then on the 13th of February, same year, Etowah, Ga., appears after his name, in his own hand write, and again from Etowah the next. When Etowah post-office is we do not know.

The register shows this which we ourselves. Mr. Ashley should be more careful in his statements hereafter and not be so careless in matters pertaining to his citizenship. Let the next legislature make it compulsory for every child in Georgia to attend school, at least three months in the year, if not four. There is not a man in the state who cannot send his child to school this long. If this is not done, cut off the appropriation.

Mr. Smith, who was recently tax receiver of Cherokee county, returned this week and entered college again.

Where Rucker Advertises Seizures.

Every seizure of illicit liquor, stills, &c., made in Georgia are advertised by Rucker who sits on his throne in Atlanta and gives instructions to his white deputies who lay aside all pride and are willing to be bossed by a negro for the sake of a little money, instead of being advertised in the papers of the counties where seized, appear in the Mt. Airy Protectionist, located away up in one corner of the state in the Blue Ridge mountains, published by a white man. In last weeks issue appears an advertisement of hundreds of gallons of liquor and many stills seized in various parts of Georgia, which will be sold in 30 days. The editor is a white republican who gets big money for these advertisements, but occasionally gives some of the colored sisters a nice little personal notice gratis just to please Rucker. The last personal coming under our observation is one which appeared in the Protectionist of August 25th last, and reads as follows:

"Among the Colored People—Nannie Boyd Reed from Atlanta, is enjoying her cottage this summer here. Sallie Boyd with her four bright children are with her from Americans, Ga." The editor is an old man, but oh how sweet it is to him for to be able to announce such arrivals, made by the patronage of Rucker. Do you want a little of Rucker's pic crust and be under obligations to him and have to cough when he sneezes? If so vote the republican ticket.

The Alaska gold year has closed. That is, transportation has been suspended by the cold weather, and no more gold shipment will come out until next spring. The gold year was a good one, the output amounting to about $26,000,000, of which the Klondike produced $11,000, Capo Nome $10,000,000, and the new Tamanas fields $2,000,000. All the other Alaska fields contributed about $8,000,000.

All of Mr. Ashley's letter heads and envelopes used now contain the following: "James A. Ashley, Doherty, Dawson county, Georgia." Wonder when he got to using them? We received a letter from Mr. Ashley while he was at Doherty mining last year and nothing was printed on his paper or envelope.

Last week Mr. J. G. Woodward was elected mayor of Atlanta. The Gate City's interest will be looked after, and don't you forget it.

Hon John Temple Graves, editor in chief of the Atlanta News, will take the stump for democracy and visit several of the doubtful states.

The last grand jury of Franklin county failed to return bills against the mob that lynched John Ware not long ago.

The Blue Ridge World of last week, states that Mr. Ashley said publicly in Blue Ridge if he could get a photograph of his banner which had been destroyed by some one Friday night before his speech, it would be all the evidence he would need to have a republican congress seat him as contestant in the next Congress of the United States. Mr. G. D. Bruce informs us that he took a photograph of the same, nevertheless Mr. Ashley is as near congress as he will ever be, unless he goes to pay Teddy another personal visit about the Gainesville post-office.

Our readers must excuse us for taking up so much space concerning our friend, (not politically) Mr. Ashley. We desire to give him all the notoriety possible, for when the election is over the gentleman's name will wilt like the autumn flower when frost touches it.

Dr. Broughton has lost his cow-riding suit against Albany's chief of police, the court holding that the chief's act was justifiable. The next time the Rev. Broughton undertakes to Parkhurst a Georgia town he will probably be a little more careful. —Free Lance.

Recently, for the second time in a week, the Pance De Leon saloon at Atlanta was broken into, but no suspicion rests on old lady Nannie.

There is now in the hands of the treasurer of Lumpkin county something over $250 sent here by the state. It is her part coming from the hire of felony convicts of the county, and the grand jury has to determine this. Our opinion is that it is needed worse on the roads, or the Jay bridge that is now being built, than in the public schools. It is true that the school census of 1903 shows 2,092 children of school age in Lumpkin, but only 694 cared to receive the benefits of the school fund now offered them by the tax payers of Georgia as is the case in all other counties of the state. And in addition to this, there is, or was at the last report of the county school commissioners, a surplus of four hundred dollars and twenty-one cents. We have no road fund on hand and this amount properly expended on the roads or bridges of this county would be of much benefit.

The Civil Service Examination at Dahlonega.

In addition to the civil service held at this place by Mr. J. E. Tate on the 19th, he will also conduct the one to be held here for the 25th of October, 1904. The instructions received by him from the department for that day reads as follows:

"The United States Civil Service announces that the fall examinations under Schedule A, in the Manual of Examinations, will be held on October 25, 1904, and those under Schedule D on the dates indicated in the Manual, at Dahlonega, Ga., in addition to the places mentioned therein.

Full information relative to the subjects and scope of the examinations will be found in the Manual.

These examinations are open to all citizens of the United States who comply with the requirements.

Applicants should at once apply to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., for a copy of the Manual of Examinations and the proper application blanks, indicating the positions which they desire. Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington six days prior to the date of the examination selected."

Mining Notes.

Charlie McAfee, Hardie Reese and Jake Sparks are taking out some ore from a four foot vein in a shaft on the Boyer lot near Barlow. When last worked it was said to be worth $15 per ton but had to be abandoned on account of so much water. This dry season is a good time to work it.

At the Barlow they are doing as well as can be expected during a drought. A number of parties are taking out ore which is being beat as fast as the present short power will admit. Mr. Treagent gets through with his work this week and expects to take a trip off for a month when he will return and resume mining.

At the Lookhart but little work is being done under ground now for the lack of power. Work is progressing in an open cut and the vein is good. The mill is as good for saving gold as any we have in this country but still much of the gold is lost. A recent test was made of the tailings which showed them to be worth $2.50 per ton. If some fellow can invent a plan to save this metal that is not too expensive Lumpkin county is the place for it.

A clean up was made last week at the Crown Mountain mine and said to be very satisfactory considering the time it has been running. The little mill is kept running on full time, but we understand that only a portion of the big mill has only averaged eleven hours in 24 since work has been resumed the last time, but Gen. Warner continues with the hope that the drought will break every day.

Mr. Bainbridge returned from his short visit home this week and is again at his place of business down at the Hand mine. He, together with all parties connected with this plant are very much encouraged with the results under its present management. There has been an abundance of good milling ore for some time and a few days ago a new vein was discovered believed to be worth $10 per ton right convenient to the mill. All that is needed now is plenty of rain. They are able only to run the mill during the day until more power can be had. The crusher will be moved to the ent, convey the ore to the mill by car, thus doing away with that big expensive belt.

TEAS THAT ARE WORTH FORTUNES

Twelve Hundred Kinds Are in China's Show at the World's Fair--The Most Populous Nation of the World For the First Time Makes an Exhibit Worthy of Her Greatness.

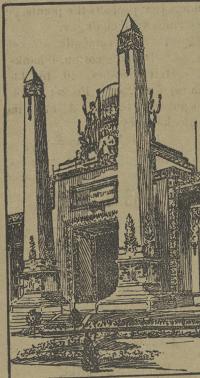

Many expositions of stupendous character make up the World's Fair of 1893, largest and most distinct show. Each building shelters many acres of wonderful things--wonderful because they are the choicest of their kind. Every nation on the globe is represented. Every state and territory is here with its art and industry, the most as its greatest opportunity.

The fact that China has not been a large exhibitor at world's fairs gives her a great exhibit here a prominence quite exceptional. It is a wonderland of ingenious productions. We know China best by reading her history and by examining the tea which have found a vast market in the United States for generations. Her commercial interests therefore prompted her to make a display of tea that we should not forget.

In sealed glass jars China displays in the Linen and Balance some 1,200 kinds of tea. Young Hyson and Old Hyson have a string of tea relations longer than the genealogical chain of a Plymouth Rock. They are neatly selected "chops" in the language of the tea farmer, and these classes do not embrace all the various tea, which are quite another lot in the rather modest number of 400.

The tea exhibited vary in price from a few cents a pound to some rare and exclusive kinds that are worth their weight in gold, the tea in the latter cases being placed on one of the scales and pure gold on the other. The price of one of the expensive kind is worth about $20 gold an ounce. Only a very small quantity of this exclusive tea is exhibited, and it is grown in carefully guarded tea plantations or gardens right in the shade of the great trees of China. Its cultivation is prohibited for any use save for the imperial family of China and a few of the favored high officials.

Mention has been made of the word "chop" in connection with tea, and it may be interesting to the everyday reader to know what the word actually signifies. The tea leaf is grown in various districts of the Chinese empire on large areas, which are often marked off for single plantations. This is hardly ever the case, as the large tracts are very often owned by hundreds of different men, whose individual plots of ground bearing the tea plants are carefully mapped out, so that each individual can cultivate and pick his own crop of tea. Each owner likewise markets his own tea and puts his own special mark, or "chop," on the packages. Hence the term "chop" signifies an individual growth or picking of tea by one owner. In an area of tea land of, say, a thousand acres of tea land, under one ownership, there may be some forty, fifty or more owners of the plantation and consequently a like number of "chops" of tea.

It must not be imagined that all these different owners of tea all get the same price for their commodity--far from it. Each of these individual tea growers has his own secrets for improving the quality and flavor of tea. Take, for instance, the Amoy and Fuchau districts, whence most of the tea for the United States comes. The owners of "chops" of tea varying from 10 to 50 pounds of tea bring their tea to the tea-chop, 50 pounds each bring samples of their goods to the various foreign merchants for sale. These latter turn the Chinese tea growers over to the good offices of the foreign or American professional tea taster, to pass on the quality to the buyer. The tea taster has the samples infused, not only in his presence and passes upon the quality, flavor, twang and manner of curing, fixing a price accordingly, from which there is never any variation and which the tea grower must accept or go elsewhere for his tea-wares. In a single tract of tea land like the one cited above the price has ranged from 14 cents, the lowest, to 48 cents, the highest, per pound among sixty-one different tea producers. A matter of great moment that also figures in the price of tea is that very often tea from the same district will have the various "chops" blended together in order to produce special flavors.

Replying in Kind.

"There is a peddler going about our part of the town," said Mr. Henpeck, who lives in the northwest section of the city, "and he's been having a little scrap with my wife. He turned up the other day—it was his first and only call at our place.

"'Morin,' madam,' says he, putting his hat on the rack and his pack on the hall floor. 'Want any combs, brushes, hairpins or chewing gum today?'

"'No,' says my wife, 'and I don't want any dime novels, balloons or corn salve, either.'

"Just so. An I suppose it's no use to ask you whether you'd like a little of my patent powder to remove your wrinkles?'

"'Not a bit, and you can't offer me a book on good manners, for if you had one for sale you might read it occasionally.'

"'None of the people I call on would appreciate 'em, madam. And now if you think you've no use for the famous ear trumpet that you can fasten to your back window and hear all your neighbors say, I'll be going along. I guess.'

"He started up at that, but what he'd last offered had caught my wife's imagination.

"'Hold on,' she said, 'I—I'd like to look at that.'

"'Well,' he answered, 'if I see a fellow with any for sale, I'll send him around. Good day.'

"'And now if that fellow turns up at our front door again I'm afraid there'll be murder done.'

BILIousNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, headaches and fevers. Cold attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if you never always kept a proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Thedford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival in a liver-curer. This great medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by men and children without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver can't be paralleled. It has a most invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids with the waste from the body are not eliminated and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Thedford's Black-Draught removes the dangerous and fiery troubles and will positively forestall the irruption of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a box package of Thedford's Black-Draught.

The Pension List.

It was reported the other day that the pension bill reached its maximum and that hereafter it would be in diminuendo. But the quarterly report of the pension commissioner does not justify the report. He shows that during the quarter ending September 30, 1904, there were on hand 285,528 claims for pensions pending. Since July 1, 1900, a total of 5,490 new applications were received and it is estimated that an average of 700 new claims are filed each working day. The death rate, it is said in the report, is exceeded by the new applications seven-fold, what the commissioner calls "the disappearing army" dying at the rate of 100 a day.

During last year there were 31,728 deaths of pensioners of all classes, of whom 20,071 were soldiers of the civil war. The commissioner says that there are still from 150,000 to 180,000 soldiers of that war not on the pension rolls. These he refers to as the "unknown army." He believes that the mortality this year will reach about 47,000.

But according to the ratio of applications to deaths, it is not apparent that the "high water mark" of the pension bill has yet been reached, either in point of the charge upon the treasury or in the numerical proportions of the roll itself. It will be many a year, doubtless, before there shall be an appreciable reduction in the appropriations on the civil war account, and in the meantime, should we have a succession of war-lords to administer the government of the United States, it may be doled out or trebled.

A traveling man at a hotel recently found a hair in the honey. He went to the proprietor and kicked. "I can't help it," said the latter. "I bought it at the comb honey." The next day at dinner he happened to run across a small hair in the ice cream, and the landlord could not account for it. "The ice is shaved," he said. The guest was boiling, for the next day he picked a raven hair out of his portion of the pie, and angrily jerked up the proprietor, who turned him down effectually as follows: "In apple pie, eh? Well, that beats the Dutch! I bought those apples for bald-wins." —Ex.

The special train of the Los Angeles Times, bearing seventy-four newspaper workers on a thirty-day's trip of 9,000 miles, reached San Antonio, Tex., the other day and left for El Paso. The party is living on its train and printing a daily newspaper on a duplicate apparatus.

As To Love.

"Twas the spring poet who used to be always strenuously trying in that green season to turn the young man's fancy lightly to thoughts of love—light fancy would probably express it better. Time has developed, however, that the fancy has a way of asserting itself just any old season, and that love is a poetic license that tunces itself in the young girl's just the same as in the young man's breast. The spring poet has been mobbed by mosquitoes, and his spilt blood will soon be dyeing with flush the frosted crest of falling leaves.

The yellow haze of golden red is opening fluffy against the greens that darken and dimple in cooling weather, and in the pink glow of morning, and the purpling shadow of evening, one can just feel the hint of ice slowly gathering upon the breath of Laughing Water, and yet the subject of love that was old last spring—and the spring before that—and ever so many springs before, is new and bright as a maiden's dream, while still her feet stand upon the brink where the child and woman meet. To all whose senses are wrapped in the soft emotion, the following from a writer in the North Georgia Citizen, will, if properly digested, give a properly practical turn to the mind.

"One loves more the first time, better the second." All women experience a first crazy love affair that is for the purpose of teaching them a few real stern facts. If you will turn the search light of sound sense upon your own thoughts you will realize that it is most absurd to dream foolish dreams about a man whom you scarcely know. No woman should permit herself to think sweetly of a man until she is sure that he is extremely fond of her. Since you know him so slightly, how can you tell that he is the sort you would respect? He may be one of the horrid kind who says things when the steak isn't right, or who blusters because the coffee is too hot. Cease thinking of this angel in men's garments and get your mind centered on more interesting and profitable matters. This is a pretty, sunny old world, and it is a pity to miss a moment of enjoyable work or the charms of healthy recreation."

How Love Letters Looked Years' After.

While rummaging through the drawers of a book case in her daughter's room in search of some writing paper the other day, Mrs. Wimberly, of Oak Park, a Chicago suburb, came upon a bundle of letters tied with a pink string and emitting a faint perfume.

She untied the bundle and glanced through several of the letters.

Then she packed them up, went down stairs and confronted her daughter.

"Ennies," she said, in a high state of indignation, "who is the idiot that you're corresponding with, I'd like to know? Of all the lovesick baldheads I ever saw, this is absolutely the worst. I shall consider it my duty to report the matter to your father if this thing goes any further. Who wrote those letters?"

"I am not going to lie to you about them, mamma," said Miss Ennies bravely. "If you will put on your glasses and look at them again you will find that they're a lot of old letters papa wrote you when you were a girl." —Chicago Tribune.

Be Friends With Your Boy.

How many fathers there are in this country who never think of making companions of their boys cannot be estimated, and yet the need is always great. The father who invites the confidence of his boy, who makes a companion of him and who makes him feel that he can always come to him in evil report, as in good report, will rarely have any cause to complain of his son. The great trouble is that men, as a rule, know too little of their boys; but this would not be the case if they made companions of them as far as possible.

Boys, as a rule, are afraid of their fathers. No boy should be afraid and admiration for the father born of love and duty, but it is an awful thing for him to be in constant dread of the parent, and yet this is the case with many of them. The man who makes a companion of his boy, who partakes of his youthful pleasures, who can always find time to change views with him, has an opportunity to correct his mistakes and give the boy the benefit of his experience, but where there is no companionship between them this cannot be done.

The father who never has time to sit down and talk with his boy about their own affairs, however simple they may be the subject, makes a mistake which, sooner or later, he will discover, and the discovery is generally too late for correction. Men sometimes miss their chance to shape and mold the character of their boys simply because they have neglected their companionship.—Greenville Herald.

Put Yourself in Their Place.

An insane mother in an Eastern city, believing that her children were to be taken from her, barricaded her home, and with two revolvers recently defended the premises for more than seven hours. A crowd of two thousand people was drawn to the neighborhood by the sound of the shooting. The police tried to induce the crowd to disperse, because they saw that its presence confirmed the woman's fears for her children; but the mob would not be cheated of its entertainment.

No injured workman is placed in an ambulance to be borne to the hospital without suffering the annoyance of a similar gaping crowd. No woman faints in a public place without being subjected to the further pain of finding a densely packed ring of humanity pressing so closely about her to shut off the very air she needs. During the Grand Army parade Boston this summer the ambulance surgeons had almost to resort to force to keep the curious mob back from veterans who had been overcome by heat or fatigue.

These crowds are not undivided. At the worst they are merely thoughtless, and their motive is often that of sympathy. But they are inconsiderate, and therefore ill-bred. If one is a witness of any painful incident which he has drawn or is likely to draw a crowd, puts himself in the place of the injured person, he will consider whether, by staying, he can be of any real service, and if he cannot he will go about his business.—Youth's Companion.

There is a little streak of obstinacy in a child which that fatal word "don't" frequently brings to the surface. Try to avoid it and turn the child's mind in another direction.

Origin of Fire.

No one discovery has done so much for mankind as the discovery of fire and its application to human wants. Without fire humanity would be in a helpless condition except in the tropics. Were it not for fire to give warmth to our homes and power to our locomotives the human race would not have progressed far. How was fire first discovered? How did the first man learn how to cause fire to burn into flame by the friction of our wooden stick upon another? This is an interesting question. The human race lived for over 100,000 years with out fires. Finally some man was back before historic times discovered that friction between two pieces of wood would cause fire, but how did he make this discovery? Previous to that discovery it is doubtful if man had any experience with fire or any knowledge of it except that he saw fire in the flash of lightning. I can imagine one dead, dry tree sliding from the mountain top at such speed over the dry timber as to cause fire, but it does not seem possible that man first discovered fire through such an example. Possibly fire was first caught from lightning or volcane.

Having noticed a report that a decision had been made by the Supreme court that election managers could not be paid out of the county treasury, we wrote to Mr. J. C. Hart, states attorney, and this is his reply: "I am in receipt of your letter of the 23d ult. In reply thereto I beg to say I know of no decision of the Supreme court to that effect, that managers of an election shall not be paid out of the county treasury. In a discussion of the Australia ballot before the last legislature some member on the floor of the House made the statement that a Supreme court Judge had said that a county could not be held liable for expenses incurred in elections, and I suppose this is where you got your impression."

Some weeks ago we stated that a change had been made and that the power to run the street cars in Gainesville had to be procured from the Dunlap. This is true but it was because one of the dynamos had to be carried there to furnish Gainesville with lights. It's true that the water is very low everywhere in Lumpkin county, but the Chesapeake still affords enough water to furnish all the power necessary for the railroad, notwithstanding the long protracted drought here.

Some of the office seekers' shirts are flying high now, but won't they flop when the democrats get in power?

The Ball Ground foot ball team, which was to have played here last Monday against the college team, failed to appear.

In White Superior court last week Mr. Allison Smith was found guilty and fined one hundred dollars and cost for libel against Col. J. W. H. Underwood.

The solid north made a solid south. And as long as the north continues solid, especially in matters regarding inimical to the south, the south will not be divided.

Democrats, the only hope the republicans have of success in this district is to catch you napping. Let every true democrat be wide awake and up and doing on the 8th day of next month.

All loyal democrats will go out and vote the ticket of their party on the 8th of November. If you remain at home you will prove untrue to the principles and people will have no confidence in you.

The republicans of Lumpkin county who favor a white man's government, will never get it as long as they vote for hungry office-seekers who are willing to support and be with negroes in conventions.

If the grand old "more righteous than thou" republican party would look more to their own anarchist and other little domestic matters, including morals, which put off the day of reckoning which is soon to come.

The editor of the Cleveland Courier says that "Hon. James M. Ashley" spoke up there and said thus and so. This is getting the cart before the horse. The editor is a postmaster up there explains this "honorable" business.

At Mr. Ashley's appointments he needs brass band music or something to fill in with while his mouth gets locked up in trying to speak. The gentleman may know but he can't tell it. Pray tell us what he could be used for in congress?

A Missouri man declared he could tell a democrat or a republican by looking at him. He picked out a democrat and was asked to show a republican. He hesitated, but walked up to a man and said: "You're a republican." A liar, instantly retorted the reporter. "I've been sick, that's what makes me look like this."—Kansas City Star.

As we stated last week, we doubted the money given by Mr. Ashley to the school house in Lumpkin county, belonging to him. From what we learn since, we were correct. It was furnished by Mr. VanVleck, a democrat. And besides this, all the money expended both in this county and Dawson for mining enterprises belonged to Mr. VanVleck. So give honor to whom honor is due.

In 1904 when a certain citizen of Lumpkin county was complaining because a northern capitalist was destroying the fertile field of his relative, a widow lady, by mining, Mr. Ashley told him to never mind that, because he (the capitalist) had marched through Georgia with Sherman and could go through the lands here the same way. Voters of the Ninth, are you going to support a man who will refer to such destruction as Sherman caused Georgia? The war is over and no man should come down here and be guilty of renewing a bad feeling between the north and south by referring to such matters of the past. If a man will do such a thing in private life what would he do if he was elected to congress?

Silas Smith, a prominent citizen of Terrell county, died last week. He was the father of twenty-six children.

It was reported that Gilmer county went republican in the late election, but it was a mistake and old Gilmer is still democratic.

The Toccoa river is so low that it can be stepped across, furnishing only water enough for the electric plant to light up Toccoa City 5 hours at night.

In our editorial last week about Mr. Ashley's citizenship the type read that he paid his taxes in Dawson county "about 1902." It should have been 1904.

Why didn't Mr. Ashley go back to Dawson and vote for some of his republican friends in the late election, if it was his home? Now he expects them all to do a thing for him that he wouldn't do for them.

The Cherokee (N. C.) Scout says: We learn from reliable parties that there is talk of shutting down the copper mines in the Ducktown region. It seems the companies have not yet hit upon a plan to entirely do away with the smoke from the roast piles, which seems to be doing more damage this year at a greater distance than ever before.

There is a pet kitten at the jail belonging to the family of Deputy Sam Britton, and it is allowed the liberty of the whole building. Tucker, the prisoner wanted in Knoxville and who recently had some files sent him in bananas has been courting favors of the cook at the jail by sending her notes tied around the kitten's neck. Mr. Britton has seened the notes.—Dalton Citizen.

The Farmers' Institute for Lumpkin, Dawson and White convenes at Cleveland, Ga., on Wednesday next. Mr. Harvie Jordan has gotten up a very interesting program and a large attendance is expected. Addresses will be delivered by Col. L. C. Wade, Cornelia, Ga.; William Newell, State Entomologist; one by Director Harvie Jordan; J. S. Stewart, Athens, Ga.; Mrs. J. H. L. Gerdine, Macon, Ga. Everybody is invited to attend and take a part in the exercises.

A special from Dalton, Ga., says that the Tennessee, Georgia and South Carolina Railway has applied to the court of Whitfield county, Ga., for a charter of incorporation with $3,000,000 capital stock. The object of the proposed company is to build an electric line from Clayton, in Rabun county, Georgia, westward through Union, Fannin and Towns counties to Ducktown, Tenn., thence through Walker county, Ga., and to Chattanooga. The proposed road will include the following towns and cities: Clayton, Hiawasseo, Young Harris, Blairsville, Morganton, Mineral Bluff, Varnell, Ringgold, Ga., and Ducktown and Chattanooga, Tenn. It will be over 200 miles in length and will be the means of developing the copper and iron region of this immediate section.

One of Mr. Ashley's republican friends is writing to parties in Lumpkin county in the interest of his candidate for congress. He wrote last week to a democrat in Dahlonega who is a miner, urging him to support Mr. Ashley, saying that it was the only hope for the mines of this country. This was the cry four years ago when the Consolidated was on a big boom. The miners were told that if the republicans lost, the plant would shut down. A republican was elected president and yet the mines closed down in a few months and work was suspended until a short time ago. So this shows that political parties have nothing to do with the mines. The mines are all right and would pay big dividends if it would rain and give plenty of power. Surely the correspondent doesn't mean that Mr. Ashley can control the weather and does not care to break the drouth unless he is sent to congress. Bah!

Leaving out the amounts necessary to support the increase of the regular army, and laying out the amounts appropriated for building new and more battle ships for the navy, the expenses of the government is more than one hundred millions of dollars annually than when Cleveland was president and the country democratic. There can be no good reason for this. There is a big graft some where. The people must rise in their might and turn the rascals out.

The big anarchist like J. D. Rockfellow, Rodgers, Armour and others, who openly defy all laws that stand in their way, and are a greater menace to free institutions than the little fellows like most who wish to do away with all law, will vote and spend their money for Roosevelt. The little anarchist will vote and spend the wind for Tom Watson. But the great mass of the people called the common people, who build up and preserve free government and give liberty, and who are instinctively patriotic will vote for Parker. See if they don't.

Referring to the cartoon which represented the President and Booker Washington hugging each other, which was publicly exhibited in Dahlonega some time since and caused some talk then and since, we have this further to say: The complaint came from the wrong direction. President Roosevelt has by vote, act and deed proclaimed that Booker is his equal both morally and socially. Now every intelligent republican, as well as democrat, knows that he is his superior intellectually. This being so it is Booker who should complain. These little two by four fellows who hold a little office under the aforesaid should wait until they or their boss is spurred to their kick.

The N. G. A. College at Dahlonega is this year beginning its work under the new president, Dr. G. R. Glenn, with by far the largest enrollment of students in the history of the institution. Over 300 are in attendance. The commandant, Major Ellison, has two fine companies of cadets with an even hundred to the company. There is a large drum and bugle corps and the boys have a full military band organized.

More attention is being paid to sports this year than heretofore. The boys have two splendid baseball teams and two find football elevens, with several of the best amateur trainers in the state. The girls have two enthusiastic basketball clubs and tennis club has also been organized. The N. G. A. C. is moving along beautifully.—Gainesville Eagle.

The congressional district in Ohio, which includes the city of Toledo, Mr. Ashley's home, is overwhelming republican. Suppose the democratic candidate for congress, Tom Bell, instead of being a candidate here where he is known, three years ago should have gone up there with Mr. Breyman and run one of his dredge boats and paid his taxes on his finger ring and watch regularly, as is not always done, and should now after such a short, and to say the least, uncertain residence, "as a plain business proposition," and as a democrat, announce himself as a candidate for congress with the avowed purpose of reforming Toledo, and the business men of Toledo get out an organization of money and have him put up, or would they merely bore him for the simplices, and turn him loose with the brand "wrong in the upper story but harmless?"

Col. H. H. Perry, of Gainesville, who once lived in Dahlonega, has been in attendance upon the Superior court here this week. He was one of the first professors in the N. G. A. College and has ever been a friend to this institution since, having supported all measures for its advancement while in the halls of the legislature.

Mr. Ashley can't play tally white on this end of the line and work in harmony with negro loving members in congress, (even if he could be elected), headed by a president who prefers negro office holders in the south to good true white republicans.

Lumpkin Superior Court,

Lumpkin Superior Court convened last Monday with Judge J. J. Kinsey on the bench and Solicitor Charters at his post.

The charge to the grand jury was delivered in a very able and explicit manner, so that no one on it could be mistaken as to his duty. The jury selected as its foreman Mr. W. H. C. Tate, who has dispatched business in a business like way, and evil doers and all things of interest to the county have been carefully looked after.

The following are the proceedings of the court up to going to press:

Local News.

We were all pleased to see Mr. Henley back on a visit this week from Pickens county.

New corn sold here last week at from 50 to 65 cents per bushel, and fodder from $1.10 up to $1.25.

The penalty for allowing cattle to run at large in Dahlonega at night is not less than 25 cents per more than $1.00, together with all cost.

There are about 165 pupils attending the public school at Dahlonega. Prof. Calloway makes them "walk the chalk line" and all are learning fast.

Jack frost made its appearance here for the first time this season on last Saturday morning. The nights are cool but the days are still very warm, and no rain at all for weeks.

On last Sunday evening the Baptist church was over crowded with people, many having to stand up, caused by two or three persons being baptized. This shows how curious people are.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Reese left for Atlanta this week with the expectation of locating there. We, together with every citizen of Dahlonega, dislike to see them leave. We extend to them our best wishes.

Cadets Bob Davis and Kirkpatrick left last Monday to stay in the Worlds Fair. They went attired in the college uniform and will give strangers a chance to see how neat the students of the N. G. A. College of the mountain appear.

Mr. John Anderson had another singing at the Presbyterian church last Sunday afternoon. A few present talked and giggled while all the rest of the congregation listened with much interest. Persons who cannot behave in public places should remain at home.

Judge Murray, after spending a few days in Dahlonega, left for his home in Huntingdon, Tenn., last Sunday. Judge Murray is kind, courteous and friendly to all and the big help he has given this section by his mining enterprises will never be forgotten by our citizens.

As we stated the other day, we wish that we could call back our boyhood days on account of candy being so cheap now. Then stick candy sold at 40 cents a pound and there was nothing fancier in this line than candy wrapped up in thin paper with fringed edges, called kisses, worth 60 and 75 cents. Now you can get the fanciest and purist candies made for the low price of 20 cents per pound at H. D. Gurleys.

Messrs. H. D. Gurley, Boyd Gurley and John Holcomb, while visiting the home of their boyhood days over in Union county last week, caught many mountain trout. It was a pleasure for them all to be able to meet again at the old school ground and drink water from the spring shaded by the big grape vine, yet it brought sad thoughts to think of the many school mates that had long passed over the river to be seen here no more.

As is well known in this section who ever is willing to make a sacrifice and run for congress on the republican ticket in the Ninth district has a big "say so" when the time comes to distribute the government plums in case Teddy is successful. And as Mr. Ashley is filling this political gap, all office seekers of the Ninth will have to secure his endorsement before standing any chance for success. This is why many of the people here believe that Mr. B. F. Anderson will be Dahlonega's next postmaster, if Teddy is elected, because he is frequently out in the country in the interest of Mr. Ashley, and as you all well know here that Ben Anderson never works for nothing, and has been promised something for his services, otherwise he would not be away from his business.

If students need nice, cheap visiting cards, THE NUGGET office is the place to get them.

Mrs. J. B. Witt moved to McGeays, Tenn., this week.

That nice fancy candy at W. P. Prices is still selling at 20 cents per pound, and going like hot cakes. Greatest bargain in sweetmeats ever known here before.

On last Friday afternoon John Castleberry, col., who works at the Crown Mountain mine, fell into a fifteen foot shaft and dislocated one of his ankles.

Mr. J. F. Moore commenced repairing his old store house last Monday. We are glad to see this move of improvement and know that it is going to be occupied again after being vacant about two years.

Judge Huff was notified last week that Geo. Mooney, who was sent from Lumpkin county to the asylum some time ago, had recovered and will be sent home as soon as the doctor there can get the names of some of his relatives.

Thursday of last week Jack Townsend received a pretty heavy blow on the head by a falling piece of timber while at work down at the Hand mine. It stunned him for awhile but he was able to return to work the next morning.

D. O. Johnson proposes to sell shoes cheaper than any one else in town, and all other goods as low as can be had here, and pays the highest market price for country produce. Shoes from 25 to 50 cents cheaper than they can be bought elsewhere in Dahlonega.

On last Sunday while Mr. Sterling Bowen was engaged at the livery stable and his wife away from home attending church, his dwelling beyond Prof. Boyd's was destroyed by fire together with its entire contents, having caught from a stove pipe. Mr. Bowen being poor hard working deserving man several dollars were given him by those present and others contributed afterwards. We wouldn't give a copper for foreign missions but are always ready to help those who we know need it like this man, and the donors in such cases will never lose anything. We know this from experience. In two hours that day from the time we handed Mr. Bowen a dollar we received $25. Two of it from the great city of London, three from North Carolina and the remainder came from a Dahlonega church member, all of whom have our thanks.

As the preacher says when receiving donations, "The Lord will bless you." Last Friday H. E. Watson got a little boozy and came to town. His legs gradually grew weak and after trying to get home with an assistant they gave way and he fell by the way side. In a short while Marshal Walker came along with his handcart, and Good Samaritan like, put him into the vehicle and by pulling, with a man to push, soon had him in the lockup with a full bucket of cool water by his side. For all these conveniences and accommodations the mayor charged him only $10.00 the next day—noting extra for transportation. It may seem strange nevertheless it is true, Mr. Watson said he wanted to kill a negro, although he votes the republican ticket, and if Teddy was to hear of it he would be very much alarmed and grieved. In a short while after Watson was disposed of Joe Davis appeared pretty full of the overjoyful. He was perfectly happy, not wanting to kill any one, either white or black, but sang in a loud clear voice: "I'll break up the c-o-n-g-r-e-s-s-a-t-i-o-n." The marshal locked him up and he was afterwards required to pay one and cost for his musical talents.

About the same time two negro boys of the small fry variety got to throwing rocks at each other. They were also given comfortable quarters until their mad spell wore off of them and turned loose free of charge with out the state troops being called out, as they didn't use any dessert.

For fine photographic work, call at the Dahlonega Portrait Co.'s gallery.

Mr. Newt Davis, Jr., and Miss Alie Seitz were married last Sunday by Rev. J. L. Wehunt.

We regret to learn that Mr. James Shelton, formerly a resident of Lumpkin county, died in Texas on the 13th day of August.

Mr. F. M. Conner, of this country, sold four bales of cotton during the month of September, being the first sent out from the country.

One day last week Mr. J. J. Bryant, of Fannin county, was married to Miss Josephine Lee of Lumpkin county. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Henry Lee.

There will be preaching at Pisgah on the third Sunday in next month. One deacon will be ordained the day previous and sacrament will be taken on Sunday.

It is due Mr. Floyd Ducket, to say that since he has been in charge of the electric light department of the Consolidated Co., not one fourth as many globes have burned out as heretofore.

Mr. W. C. Keaum informs us that he has purchased a farm down in Milton county, but will not leave us for several months. This we are glad to know, for he is the best dredge boat miner ever operating one in this county.

The two hundred and fifty odd dollars in the county treasury belonging to the convict hire fund, will be used on the roads, according to the wish of the grand jury this week instead of public schools. This is a good move and will meet the approval of a big majority of our tax payers.

We regret to learn that some of the new mile posts and sign boards, recently put up by Judge Huff, have already been defaced. It is very strange that any one will be guilty of such an act, and if the grand jury can find the one who did it there will be trouble in the camps.

A few weeks ago something was said in THE NUGGET about Mr. Geo. Burns, of this county, suing the railroad company for damages. Mr. Burns did, but tells us that he first tried to get a comp'romise with Mr. Carlisle, but the gentleman who wants no attention to him, which causing him to enter the suit.

In reference to no teacher being at Ashley school house, Mr. W. H. Early, one of the trustees, says that Mr. Ivey left for reasons better known to himself. No demand was made of him to teach ten hours, says Mr. Early. A patron of the school said that there was such a demand. So we give both sides of the question, showing how difficult it is for newspaper men to get the facts about anything.

Rev. J. N. Austin, although a cripple, walked ten miles last Saturday to fill an appointment. This shows his faith and it is old time religion. Mr. Austin is a good man and if we knew that he would be able to be with him in the other world we would be satisfied, but as yet there is no evidence of county editors and preachers mixing up after they leave this land, but there is no telling what will take place in the future.

This has been court week, and we have had the pleasure of meeting many of our old friends. We have received several new subscribers and renewals, for which we return our sincere thanks. In addition to this, we were called handsome by a lady, causing us to go at once and have our photograph taken, but none of them will be offered as premiums, as THE NUGGET speaks for itself. At night we attended the inland entertainment on a free ticket. Taking in all these things combined it was certainly a week of pleasure to us, for it is very seldom thing for prosperity and happiness to come on the side of a country editor. But enough of this for the present and we will pass on to the next station.

Mrs. Thompson, after residing here for a few months, moved down to Gainesville a few days ago.

Mr. Banbridge has been looking over the electric line this week and expects to give the citizens still better service.

SHINGLES. — When you need shingles of any kind write Hutchinson Bros., Piedmont, Ga. They will save you money.

We are glad to learn that it was a mistake about Mr. John Robinson being dead in White county. He is an old Lumpkin county citizen and we think a heap of him.

Our friend Mr. Scott Stringer was in town this week and he didn't forget to come down to see us. Scott used to live here who is as good natured and jolly as ever.

Mr. James B. Waters, of Dahlonega, gives us the following remedy for cattle eating too much sugar cane: A pound of ground pepper in a half gallon of apple vinegar.

Although our old friend Mr. Reeves, of New Bridge, is 65 years of age he plays the fiddle well and is more active than some sixteen-year-old boys. He was here this week.

Tom Sullins came in to town a little too full of whiskey last Tuesday and the result was he landed in the calaboose and was afterwards given one and trimmings.

Among our new subscribers this week, we are a lot of republicans. We differ politically but when it comes to doing anything for the upbuilding of Lumpkin county, we are all together.

Mrs. Pierce Grindell, a widow lady residing in Crumby's district, lost about a hundred panels of fencing by fire a few nights ago, supposed to be the accidental work of possum hunters.

Mr. Wm. Lance was badly hurt while returning home last Monday, by his ox getting scared and running away. No bones were broken that we have learned of. The wagon was a complete wreck.

Mr. N. D. Black, Dawson county's next representative, was among the visitors here this week. We have not known Mr. Black long but from what we have learned, that county will be ably represented.

While here this week Mr. Ashley brought up a cartoon of Mr. Cleveland, connecting him with some negro act. This is a little school boy act, and looks very silly for a man like Mr. Ashley who wants to go to congress.

Cols. W. A. Charters and B. P. Gaillard made speeches in the court house last Wednesday that were listened to with much interest. It was not in reply to anything he could for the benefit of this section. This is why we always like him so well here.

Last Monday, time being fixed for Mr. Ashley to appear before the public in a speaking attitude here, and not having time to go to dinner, we bought one cents worth of cheese and crackers, because we didn't wish to hear him make an effort on an empty stomach. But oh how we do wish we had our copper back now! for it was the lightest thing ever offered by any candidate, bailiff not excepted.

Mr. Ben Anderson introduced the speaker, who tried to crown the candidate with a sun flower and fill his hands with roses, but when Mr. Ashley got up the flowers wilted. He denied nothing, THE NUGGET or any one else had charged him with, but said that he was a republican and talked about his grand pap, like the old man had anything to do with the congressional race. He told what he pleased and satisfied with the present management and good results.

Mr. Ashley, who is running for congress was here this week and registered this time from "Dawson county." We don't know how you will reach him with a letter unless you send it in care of that negro shoe maker in Gainesville, who started this week down into Jackson county in the interest of dear Jim. Mr. Ashley claims to be running a lily white race in this section and it will be well enough for his friends to say nothing about this. We won't.

The indebtedness of Lumpkin county is nearly fifteen hundred dollars.

If you want a small farm read the ad. of Mr. Keaum, to be found elsewhere in this issue.

Col. Leedford, of Blairsville, Ga., who so ably represented his section in the senate, has been with us this week.

Judge Shope and Mr. Disney, of the Briar Patch mine, are now on the property looking after the interest of the company.

The court room was crowded yesterday with people to see Judge Kinney marry Geo. Clark and Ida Castleberry, col.

Our young friend, Mr. B. F. Gaillard, one of the brightest attorneys of his age in the state, is up from Gainesville this week, attending court.

Mr. Fletch Johnson, of Gainesville, has been here this week. The gentleman doesn't come often but when he does he makes everything pleasant as long as he stays,

Our old friend Bony Tanksley came in last Wednesday. He used to furnish the court with business, but this is a thing of the past now and he comes as a welcome visitor to his many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers, of Atlanta, are among the visitors here this week. The gentleman represents the Constitution, which you all know is one of the biggest and best papers in the south,

A committee from the grand jury has been busy for several days this week looking over the tax digest. It is well known that a number of persons in the county don't return their property at its true value and this is why the committee was appointed.

Howard Thompson, of Gainesville, has been here this week busily engaged in court, used to be the solicitor general of this circuit but treated everybody so nice that they all like him. He performed his whole duty, but did it in a pleasant way.

The Bryant damage suit in Lumpkin Superior court this week has created much interest on account of a fight and the plaintiff being given a verdict for one hundred dollars. It is an old law but it has never been taken advantage of in this county before. So here after people having property will have to be more careful.

Col. J. W. H. Underwood, of Cleveland, Ga., who has occupied the honorable position of both representative and senator, attended Lumpkin Superior court this week. Col. Underwood made an able member, who was always ready and willing to do anything he could for the benefit of this section. This is why we always like him so well here.

The following is a list of the visiting attorneys here this week: W. J. Pike, Jefferson, Ga.; H. H. Dean, Gainesville, Ga.; F. M. Johnson, Gainesville, Ga.; B. P. Gaillard, Jr., Gainesville, Ga.; Geo. K. Looper, Gainesville, Ga.; M. L. Ledford, Blairsville, Ga.; J. W. H. Underwood, Cleveland, Ga.; H. H. Perry, Gainesville, Ga.

We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. R. A. Stanley, of Columbus, Ga., last Tuesday. Mr. Stanley is interested in the Standard Gold Mining Co., who has been here looking after his interests in the same. He informs us that quite a change has taken place since he left this land, but he was well pleased and satisfied with the present management and good results.

Mr. Ashley, who is running for congress was here this week and registered this time from "Dawson county." We don't know how you will reach him with a letter unless you send it in care of that negro shoe maker in Gainesville, who started this week down into Jackson county in the interest of dear Jim. Mr. Ashley claims to be running a lily white race in this section and it will be well enough for his friends to say nothing about this. We won't.

The sheriff sent down to Gainesville this week and had Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Owens, brought back. Mrs. Adams is charged with keeping a disorderly house, and the other for selling liquor. There are others there who went from this county, charged with keeping disorderly houses who will have to "face the music." The judge says that they must run off further than Gainesville if they do not want to be molested.

CURES BY REMOVING THE CAUSE

A THREE-FOLD REMEDY for all ills due to functional troubles. Acts on the Liver and Kidneys; and Purifies the Blood.

Thousands have used this reliable medicine with great confidence and success for 25 years, because they know just what it contains.

The formula consists of Buchu, Hydrangea, Mandrake, Yellow Dock, Dandelion, Sarsaparilla, Gentian, Senna and Iodide of Potassium.

Any doctor or druggist will tell you that this is a scientific and reliable combination of great value, all of which having their origin in the Liver, Kidneys and Blood. After years of experience and patient experiment, Dr. Thacher so perfected the process of manufacture that it never fails to bring the expected relief when taken according to directions.

Thousands of sides ones to whom life has been a burden, written grateful letters of thanks.

Spred, Mississippi, Oct. 17, 1892.

"I have suffered greatly with indigestion, constipation, also a severe liver trouble, with loss of appetite, could not rest well at night; in fact, had no energy to work or even walk around. I like to make a good living, but could not do it. I had to give up my business. I took Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, which helped me almost from the first dose, and when I had taken it for a week, I was able to get back into my business again. I am now well and it was due entirely to your medicine. I used in all three bottles, and consider myself perfectly cured. At this time my appetite is good, I sleep well and am strong and energetic again. I am sure the medicine will do the same for others.

If you need a medicine write to-day for a Free sample bottle and "Dr. Thacher's Health Book" containing many useful hints on health and hygiene. Price 10¢. At all druggists 50 cents and $1.00.

To Live in Peace.

Japanese in U. S. Army.

A woman may accept a man in haste, but a man chooses his wife at leisure. It is to be supposed that when a man asks a woman to marry him he has decided that he cannot live without her. If he can't live without her, it is certainly his duty to do his best to live with her. This is not always so easy as it sounds. Here's a few simple rules for the wise husband:

If your wife frowns at you smile at her.

If she smiles at you, laugh with her.

If she is angry, soothe her.

If she is gracious, thank her.

If she is wise, praise her.

If she is extravagant, explain to her.

If she sacrifices her pleasures for you, be generous with her.

If she is beautiful, appreciate her.

If she cooks well, compliment her.

If she is lonely, stay at home with her.

If she doubts you be frank with her.

If she grieves, be tender with her.

If she deceives you, be harsh with her.

If she is saucy, kiss her.

If she is good, adore her.—Kansas City World.

A trial was recently made in Austria to decide in how short a space of time living trees could be converted into newspapers. At Aisenthal at thirty-minutes after 7 in the morning three trees were sawed down; at thirty-four minutes after 9 the wood, having been stripped of bark, cut up and converted into pulp, became paper and passed from the factory to the press, whence the first printed and folded copy was issued at 10 o'clock, to that in 145 minutes the trees had become newspapers.

It may not be generally known that the United States Army of the future will include a command of Japanese soldiers, but this is a fact. They will not come from the armies which are fighting in the Far East, but will be enrolled from our Japanese citizens in the Sandwich Islands. It is needless to say that a very large proportion of the population of the islands, and especially of Honolulu, is composed of this nation. They are found among the bankers, merchants and professional men, and are included among the wealthiest residents of the city.

One of the principal schools of Honolulu is attended exclusively by Japanese children, and here has been enrolled a command of cadets which is to be mustered into the United States militia as soon as it is organized and old enough. It is drilled by a foreign Japanese army officer and though organized but a few years ago, this battalion has already attained a high standard of efficiency.

It is frequently seen on parade in Honolulu and attracts much attention.—New York Herald.

Grand Jury Presentments.

District—921, G. M., V. A. Higgins.

We find two vacancies on the board of education and recommend that Wm. A. McGee be appointed to fill the vacancy made by resignation of G. G. Evans and G. McGuire to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of W. P. Price, Sr. We have selected as a committee to examine the various county officers and make a report to the next grand jury the following: T. F. Jackson, W. H. Jones, M. J. Williams, and recommend that they receive the same compensation that jurors receive for the time they are actually engaged in the performance of their duties.

We have examined into the condition of the public roads and find them in a much better condition than heretofore, except one piece of road from the old Nimblewill law ground down to the Cooper Gap road, which is in bad condition, and recommend that the commissioners have that piece of road worked out at once.

We recommend that all roads across public roads be put in good condition, with a hitching post and upping block on each side at the expense of the owner of gates.

We recommend that a change be made on the Dahlonega and Cleveland road at the Grindle ford around the hill to the White county line. Also a change be made in the Nimblewill and Jones' Creek district at the Wells place, intersecting Bull Creek mountain road at the Sandy Flat. Also be changed at what is known as the Butts mill near the Larman Fork in Nimblewill district, running up a hollow to the Nimblewill road, and recommend that the above changes be made by the road hands of said districts.

We recommend that the money derived from the convict hire be equally applied to the two leading mail lines running from Dahlonega to Gainesville. One by way of Auraria to county line. One by way of Bearden's bridge to county line. This money to be used in making necessary changes for the betterment of said roads.

We recommend that our ordinary buy a register so that each road may be registered and classified. That the road commissioners of the various districts furnish the ordinary with the number of miles and descriptions, and by compiling these reports the ordinary can map out and classify roads of country.

We recommend that the piers at the Jay bridge be built four feet higher of good and suitable stone, at the expense of the contractor in lieu of middle pier.

We have examined the jail and find it in good condition except a few broken panes and recommend them to be replaced at once. Also we recommend that they be furnished with clean and sufficient bedding so that the white and colored races will not have to bed together.

We have examined the court house and find it in good condition except the concrete floor and recommend that it be repaired.

We recommend that the per diem of jurors and court bailiffs for next year be $1.50 per day. We recommend that the finance committee be paid $1.50 per day for services already proposed.

We have examined the pension roll and so far as we are able to ascertain all are entitled.

We recommend that the ordinary pay W. R. Whitmire $2.00 per month temporarily.

We recommend that the ordinary buy a pauper home not to cost over $8,000, and have appointed the following committee to act in concert with the ordinary in selecting and purchasing said farm: Joseph C. Stargard, George Cochran, David N. Jarraud, W. H. C. Tate.

That said farm shall be let out to the lowest bidder with a good and sufficient bond for the faithful performance of his duties. We find it advisable to buy this farm at once to save the amount which is about one thousand dollars annually, in part payment on said farm in lieu of its being scattered in little drifts all over the county.

We recommend when the ordinary furnishes hammers and steel to road commissioners that they receipt for same.

We have examined the Sheriff's books and find them correctly kept, and that he has rendered his account from April 23, 1904 to Sept. 31, 1904, amounting to $188.52, and received orders for same.

We also find that Sheriff J. M. Davis has paid the following amounts to

H. C. Tate, for the able and efficient manner in which he has discharged his duties.

We also wish to extend to our clerk our appreciation for his valuable services.

We recommend that these presentations be published in the DAHLONEGA NUGGET and Dahlonega Signal, charging legal fees for same and equally dividing the same.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMITTEE.

DAHLONEGA, GA., Oct. 13th, 1904.

We, the Finance Committee, appointed by the grand jury, April term, 1904, submit the following report to the grand jury of October term, 1904:

We have carefully inspected the Tax Digest for 1904 and find the total returns of white tax payers $609,282

Less error found in Dahlonega district..... 100

Total returns of colored tax payers..... $609,182

Plus error found in district..... 9,398

Less error found in Dahlonega district..... $618,520

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCT. 28, 1904.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Lula is to have a bank. This shows that prosperity is spreading out.

If you are a democrat show your colors. Don't sit astride of the fence until the bear is killed and then say, "ain't we done it?"

It seems that Mr. Ashley has been sending out some of his campaign literature at the expense of Uncle Sam—free of charge, contrary to the postal laws.

The commissioners of Thomas county have passed a law fixing the license of domestic wine at $2,000 per annum, which will put an end to its sale in that county.

We give the women credit for all the sense they possess, says the Commerce News, but we see no sort of sense but nonsense in buying a skirt that is so long that it must be held up.

We saw a fellow courting a negro the other day for his vote for Ashley, and yet Mr. Ashley and his friends undertake to make the people believe that he is running lily white in the upper counties of the Ninth.

Where will Mr. Ashley go to vote? At Toledo, Etowah, Dougherty or Dawson county? He is like a "possum dog, has several places of abode and there is no telling which course he will take on the 8th day of November.

We regret to learn that our friend Acy Crenshaw, of New Bridge, who has always been a democrat, has fallen from grace and is now going to turn his back on his party and vote for Ashley, notwithstanding he voted in the last democratic primary for Tate. He is a postmaster and is afraid that he will lose a job is the only reason we can see for it.

All republicans who didn't support Ashley during the convention held in Dahlonega will be punished in some manner. Farrow at Gainesville and Pewit at Cumming have already been removed as postmasters. Hughes of Gainesville, who left the ball, will be hung up by the thumbs, and the three negroes will be carried before President Roosevelt by Mr. Ashley and given a spanking.

Over in China, Japan, Africa, India, or anywhere else where we send missionaries the people as a rule are better off than we; they are happy and contented with their lot, because they never knew any better. Here we have our own people suffering, sick and hungry, and we answer their appeals with empty hands because we must send all our money to the heathen, truthfully remarks the Gwinnett Journal.

Messrs. A. J. Warner, W. W. Murray, W. A. Carlisle, W. H. Slack, W. F. Huntley, D. S. Greenleaf, and their associates have filed a petition in Hall Superior court for the incorporation of the "North Georgia Sanitarium." The petition was filed Oct. 17th. The capital stock of the company is $150,000, ten per cent of which has been actually paid in, and the privilege is asked for the increasing of the capital stock to $500,000. The petition asks the rights and privileges.

A writer in the Mt. Airy Protectionist says Ashley ought to be sent to congress because he is a man of refinement and is a graduate. There is no reason in this. We know of men who are just as good looking, having as much refinement, with as good an education as Mr. Ashley, who are plowing steers and would do more good in congress in one session than he could accomplish in twenty for the people of the south. If Mr. Ashley is such an accomplished man why couldn't he get office at home in the north?

Georgia won many prizes at the World's Fair at St. Louis. Georgia is a hard state to beat.

The Japs and Russians are now taking a rest.

Gainesville now has a democratic postmaster.

On the 8th day of November vote for a man for congress who resides in the 9th district. It is dangerous to pick up visitors for office.

If the people of the 9th were to send Mr. Ashley to congress the district would soon be full of people from everywhere, even foreign nations, asking for office.

The sinking of the British fishing vessels recently by Russians has aroused all Europe. England has filed a protest and Russia will have to pay an apology.

As a result of the findings of the Statesboro court Marshal Capt. Hitch has been dismissed from the service of the state. Lieut. Mell and service and Lieut. Griner remanded. We hope now that he will get rest.

We know some of the best and most prominent republicans in Dahlonega who are going to vote for Tom Bell in preference to Mr. Ashley. These men don't propose to throw their votes away on a speechless man.

Mr. Ashley stated in a poster that the democratic papers of the 9th had been publishing lies about him. This is true, when they printed his card stating that he had been a "citizen of Georgia for five years."

Democrats, stand to your colors and not allow yourselves to be soaped-soap by any carpet bagger like Ashley and his leaders and followers. Be men and stand firm to what you believe is right, even if you do have to give up all offices under the present administration. Don't allow yourselves to be pulled about by the nose.

It seems that Rev. A. M. Williams, of Savannah, Ga., had his ballot taken from him during the recent election in Chatham county. After visiting Atlanta he stated that he didn't go near the polls that day, yet it was found where "A. M. Williams" voted ballot No. 599, according to the general election returns filed with the secretary of state.

The Blue Ridge Post thinks it a nice thing for the democratic papers to howl because Mr. Ashley failed to pay his taxes, "when he lives in their midst, developing their mineral resources and building school houses for their children." Can you tell us whom these men will be used? We can. It was Mr. Van Vleck, a northern democrat. Why, Mr. Will Keanum, of Lumpkin county, had to lock up Mr. Ashley's tools over on the Chesterfield river, before he could get money that Mr. Ashley was due him.

The excuse for Col. Farrows removal from the Gainesville post-office, is that he is non-resident of the community. This lets Ashley out, for no doubt he would be here for the post-office, but having so many different homes can't come in. The applicants are: Mrs. James Longstreet, H. L. Richardson and Ben Landers, but as the last two already hold offices under Uncle Sam, the post-office will doubtless be given to some one else. Later.—The lady has been appointed.

The tone of the following letter received on Tuesday from Col. Howard Thompson at Gainesville, Chairman of the Central Campaign Committee, shows that the man who came up here and started the report that the Colonel was going to support Ashley, is badly mistaken. Col. Thompson says: "Urge the voters through your columns to come out and help us bury 'carpebagism' for good and all the Ninth district. We have the fight won, but we want to pile up such a majority for Tom Bell, our nominee, as will be a warning to 'transient' candidates not to 'bunt in' where they are not wanted."

Georgia won many prizes at the World's Fair at St. Louis. Georgia is a hard state to beat.

Ashley Trying to Force Democrats to Support Him.

On Sunday Postmaster Tato, at Dahlonega, received the following message from Ashley at Washington, D. C.:

"W. H. C. TATE,
DAHLONEGA, GA.

I have had Farrow and others removed from office. Write John Graham at Two Run and tell him if he does not get into line I will have him removed."

This post-office is located ten miles above Dahlonega and is kept by Mr. Graham's sister. What does Ashley mean to do with Mr. Graham? Where does he propose to put him? Off on some foreign island where he will not be in the way of the "great I am" who has come down here to reform the 9th district. John Graham is firm to the core. He has always been a true democrat and no such carpet baggers as Ashley can use the party lash severe enough on him to cause him to change his way of voting.

The idea of Ashley talking of removing an invalid lady and her brother, the assistant, because he refuses to support him is beneath the dignity of any gentleman and is too mean to talk about.

Ashley knows he cannot get people to vote for him by his promises and now he is going to try to force them with the lash. If they are all like us we would set him at the devil before we would even think of such a thing. No true democrat will either.

Postmaster Tate attended the Farmers Institute up at Cleveland last Wednesday, who reports a big crowd present and much interest manifested. Whites citizens gave a free dinner to all present.

In last week's issue we stated that Mr. Allison Smith, of White county, had been fined $100 for libel by Judge Kinsey during the last term of White Superior court. He was charged with libel but not found guilty of this, but for writing an article against Col. Underwood, was fined the above sum.

At the copper mines in Fannin county a few days ago a man named Stiles lost his life by falling back into the shaft, 85 feet, caused by being overcome by gas. Four others who tried to rescue his body, came near losing their lives.

The other day when Tom Bell spoke up at Cleveland he brought tears to the eyes of many of his hearers. When a candidate can cause people to cry at words spoken during a political speech, he is sure to win the fight.

Vote the democratic ticket and get men in power who will treat you right, by trying to get opposing parties to join them by persuasion, and not by using the party lash, like the republicans are now doing.

About two hundred negroes met in Gainesville the other night and endorsed Roosevelt but condemned Ashley.

Georgia, Lumpkin County.
To the Superior Court of said county.

The petition of the North Georgia Electric Company, a body corporate and politic under the laws of said State, and existing as such by virtue of a charter granted by this honorable Court on the 25th day of April, 1901, shows to the Court the following facts:

That said corporation desires to amend its charter so as to change the office and principal place of doing and transacting the business of said corporation from Dahlonega, in Lumpkin County, Georgia, to the city of Atlanta, Georgia, so that its principal place of doing business and its main office will after the granting of this charter be in Gainesville, Hall County, Georgia.

Said corporation desires that its powers, rights and privileges be enlarged so as to authorize it to make contracts for the erection of hotels, boarding houses, sanitariums, and such other public or private works and improvements as it may from time to time desire to engage in. Said corporation desires to have the right to purchase stock and bonds or other securities of other corporations and pay for the same, either in money or in kind, in exchange for its right to accept said stock, bonds or other securities in payment for such contracts for building or construction or otherwise, and to own, hold or sell any or all of said stock, bonds or other securities or either of them.

Said corporation desires to have such other and further powers as may be consistent with its charter, or as may be authorized by the laws of the State of Georgia.

Wherefore, petitioner prays that this amendment be allowed and said additional powers be granted, and the same made a part of said original charter.

And petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Local News.

Joseph Walker and Joe Davis left this week for Texas.

A little ten-month-old child of Mr. Henry Johnson died last Saturday evening a few miles from Dahlonega.

All kinds of lumber, ready sawed, for sale by J. M. & J. A. Smith, Aurora, Ga. Orders will receive prompt attention.

Mr. H. D. Gurley has been attending the Grand Lodge of Masons at Macon this week, representing the Dahlonega lodge.

Last week Com. Baker bound over John Swaine and David Jarrett, of Lumpkin county, who are charged with illicit distilling.

All our citizens should be very careful about fire. Should one break out in town now while everything is so dry and water so scarce, there would be no chance to save the place.

Judge Shope and Mr. J. T. Miller passed through Dahlonega last Sunday with a party of gentlemen for the purpose of taking a view of the upper part of the canal, being cut to the Briar Patch mine.

A party of ladies and gentlemen, of Dahlonega, went out a "possum hunting the other night, but only caught one, as the moon shone and it is said that large "possums do not come out on moonlight nights.

The grand jury presentations of the recent term of Lumpkin Superior court will be found on the first page of this issue. They are full of interest, showing that the body was wide awake on subjects of importance to the county.

Most all the students have received their new uniforms now and present a very nice appearance. Maj. Tilson is giving them special attention in military tactics and all are learning fast. So when there is a military contest in Georgia you may look for these boys.

We have marked from our subscription book this week the names of several persons who did not renew their subscriptions. Others will be done likewise when failing to make some arrangements as soon as their times are up. It is a "business proposition with us." As we have said heretofore, we are not running a paper for love nor pleasure, but for the money there is in it.

On last Saturday afternoon Sheriff Davis received a message from Dayton, Tenn., stating that they had Alvenia Coffey in jail there ready for him. Alvenia is the negro who forged his bond in the Superior court of Lumpkin county some time ago, and was afterwards captured in Alabama and made his escape down at Gainesville as the sheriff of this county was returning with him to face the charge of selling liquor here. The sheriff left the next day and brought the negro back, but the officer refused to turn the negro over to Mr. Davis unless he would pay him $25. This he refused to do, and returned home and has had the requisition papers prepared and as soon as they are properly signed the sheriff will go after him again.

The law requiring grand juries at the fall term of each court to examine the tax digest and raise all property not returned at its true value, has just as well be repealed. Generally a committee is appointed, which looks over the book and finds many surprising things, but still nothing can be done by the jury, for often there are too many of the body "helping to eat the beef." We were told that a man sat on the last grand jury of Lumpkin county, who returned his farm to the receiver for $1,000, and he wants to sell it at $3,500. There is no chance for a change unless the legislature passes a law to appoint tax assessors for each county. Then there are members there like some of the grand jurors, returning their property too low, and vote against such a law.

Mr. T. M. Ray came in last week from Tennessee.

Pork from the wagons in Dahlonega is going at 7 cents each. White beans $2 per bushel.

Renew your subscription when your time expires, if you want to continue reading THE NUGGET.

You can sell eighteen or twenty good miles to B. R. Meaders within the next fifteen days at Dahlonega.

SHINGLES.—When you need shingles of any kind write Hutchinson Bros., Field, Ga. They will save you money.

On the night of the 20th John Turner and Eli Allen, of White county were both bound over to Judge Baker here, charged with illicit distilling.

In the U. S. Court in Atlanta this week Dave Seabolt and Martha Prewitt were each given four months and $100 fine for illicit distilling. Jap Rider got two months and the same fine. All from this country.

Mr. J. S. Chester, of Milton county, who once resided in Lumpkin, was up on a visit a few days ago to friends and relatives. Mr. Chester says he has a good crop and is doing well. This we are glad to hear.

Not long ago a former lady of Lumpkin county, was sent to the lunatic asylum, and as soon as she began improving she wrote to her folks here for them to send her the money. All kinds of people like to read it.

Two true bills and ten no bills were returned by the last grand jury of Lumpkin county. Many witnesses were out chestnut hunting and could not be found by the bailiffs, otherwise there would have been more business for next court.

D. O. Johnson proposes to sell shoes cheaper than any one else in town, and all other goods as low as can be had here, and pays the highest market price for country produce. Shoes from 25 to 50 cents cheaper than they can be bought elsewhere in Dahlonega.

Our farmers are making some of the finest syrup here this year ever manufactured before. We have received several gallons from different parts of the county and it is all good. Oh how we wish we could call back our boyhood days long enough to attend the many candy pullings that will take place this season.

It has been asserted that parents keep their children at home from school to pick cotton is why the attendance is so small. This is a mistake. Up above in Crumby's district, in Lumpkin county, where not a single stock of cotton is raised, but few attend. Here in Dahlonega the report showed that 40 children within its limits didn't attend school last year. It can't be said that picking cotton causes this non attendance here. Parents are to blame for it. This is where the trouble lies.

The other day Mr. Marshal Kearns, of this county, went out to work in his cane patch. During the time he stepped on a big rattlesnake, scaring him so that he jumped up and down and commenced hollering, alarming his son, who went to the scene, jerked up a fence rail to kill the serpent, when he stuck a big splinter in his hand, and he, too, began yelling at the top of his voice, and it sounded camp meeting like till some one killed the snake and relieved the boy's hand of the splinter.

The grand jury decided to use the convict money on the two leading roads from Dahlonega to Gainesville, one by way of Aurora, and the other by way of Bearden's bridge. There is a little over $250 of this fund in the treasury now, being only one quarter, and by the time the legislature convenes this county will get over $1,000. $500 on each road will put them in good condition. After the legislature convenes it may give this convict money direct to the public school fund.

Some ice on Monday morning, being the first of the season here.

Mrs. Callie Smith, of Atlanta, is visiting relatives in Dahlonega this week.

Mr. Geo. Marlow is going to move back to Dahlonega from Alabama in a few days.

Looking at the proper place you will see that the North Georgia Electric Company wishes to amend its charter.

Mr. W. P. Price, Jr., has been down to Atlanta this week taking in the many interesting sights of the great city.

The dentist, who advertised to be here on the 15th, didn't put in his appearance, causing several to have painful teeth at this time.

The defendants who forfeited their bonds at the recent term of Lumpkin Superior court are: Harve Stancl, Cornelius Goud, Lon Christy, John Barker, Vader Prewitt and E. S. Sullins. They couldn't face the music, causing them to have business elsewhere.

Mr. J. F. Moore is tearing away the lower half of his old store house and is repairing the other. It is his intention, when the building of the railroad to Dahlonega is a certainty, to replace it with a brick one. The construction of the road seems to be very favorable, but there is no telling what may happen to stop it yet.

On last Monday some of the prisoners in jail made an effort to burn out, and the smoke caused much alarm for awhile. It was in the cell of Turner, Gabriel and Hulsey, under the same window where Burns tried to gain his freedom several years ago in the same manner. The hole is almost through the wall and should be fixed at once, for fear of an accident.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Johnson, Gainesville, arrived in Dahlonega last Sunday on a visit to their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Castleberry. Mr. Johnson has returned but his wife is still here.

gashes on the side of her head.

The name of the Ashley school house in this county, should be changed to VanVleck, as we understand he gave the $100 to wards its construction, and Mr.

Ashley is getting credit for it.

A piece of slate fell and struck

Jack Townsend on the leg down at the Hand mine last Tuesday and cut it in two or three places, but fortunately not bad enough to keep him from resuming work the next day.

Hon. Thomas M. Bell will address the citizens of Dahlonega and surrounding country in the cour-house on Thursday night the 3rd of November. Come out and hear our next congressman talk and listen to the music of the band.

Many of our citizens regret that

Col. W. P. Price resigned as member of the board of education a few days ago, for the Colonels have been a faithful worker in the interest of education in Lumpkin county for many years and has accomplished great good and could do much more. The two new members are good men and no doubt will be very active in the business. Mr. Evans resigned because of being elected ordinary,

He too did his duty.

We believe that some of our citizens ought to give home affairs more attention and less to foreign missions. There are men in Dahlonega who will contribute money for foreign missions every time a call is made, who won't even give a nickel to a person here when they lose their home by fire. We should first see that our people are not suffering at home. Then when they are amply provided for, it is soon enough to give to the foreign people, provided we can spare it. The other Sunday, while a man's house was burning in Dahlonega, a minister was up preaching and asking for money to be sent to the heathens. We waited to see if any one at either church had a wife and child right under our nose in distress, but not a word have we heard in this direction by any minister.

The grand jury decided to use the convict money on the two leading roads from Dahlonega to Gainesville, one by way of Auraria, and the other by way of Bearden's bridge. There is a little over $250 of this fund in the treasury now, being only one quarter, and by the time the legislature convenes it will be enough to pay off the debts of the county.

Some note, and will have some thing valuable to say. Let every body attend.

Large photographs of Dahlonega and mining views for sale at THE NUGGET office for 25 cents a piece.

Col. Baker went up to Cleveland this week to attend the Farmer's Convention, accompanied by his wife.

Col. Price is having some signs made to put up down on his end of town, giving the names of the streets.

On last Sunday Miss Vanza Grizzel, a daughter of Mr. James A. Grizzel, was married to Mr. Benj. Ash. Both of this county.

Mr. A. P. Tregent at the Frank Rees old stand, will buy all kinds of farm products and pay cash. See his ad. elsewhere in this issue.

It's little strange that some people want their home paper sent on time, when they are able to pay for any of the Atlanta papers twelve months in advance.

One day this week Ed Corn of this county, got both legs broken above the knees by a wagon. We did not learn the particulars but suppose it is the result of a run-away.

Little Edward Fitts lost his watch on the public square last Monday, and the finder will be rewarded. It is a Snap watch, flowered on back, stem winder and stem setter.

A few people to Dahlonega have borrowed THE NUGGET so much and read and watched for its editor so often till they are getting cross-eyed. Don't be too stingy to get one of your own.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Johnson, Gainesville, arrived in Dahlonega last Sunday on a visit to their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Castleberry. Mr. Johnson has returned but his wife is still here.

The little three-year-old girl of

Mr. Charlie Satterfield fell from the high porch at her home last

Wednesday and cut one ear nearly through, besides several other

gashes on the side of her head.

At the last term of Lumpkin Superior court the grand jury recommended that a farm be bought for the paupers. A committee was appointed to look after the matter. The committee appointed Judge Huff as chairman, who you will see by a notice elsewhere, calls the body to meet on the 10th of November, and also requests that November 20th be set as the day for the paupers to be removed from the county.

Among the number of visitors here this week, we find on

Hall's Villa register the names of

Mr. L. C. Goodman, of Washington, D. C., and Mr. W. E. Odom,

of Baltimore, Md. Mr. Goodman

belongs to the U. S. Geologic

Survey.

A fellow who had not spoken to us for five or six years dropped into THE NUGGET office this week, and while handing us the money said, "Send us that valuable little paper." This proves that by reading this paper it brings about friendship. Let all who are not already subscribers try it.

The civil service examination was held here on the 15th and 25th by assistant postmaster, Jim Tate. Only four young men stood the examination, as follows: Emery Cochran, bookkeeper department service; Bruce Ray, teacher Indian service; E. P. Patterson and A. C. Shuler, both for gauger in Internal revenue service.

All the persons that were in jail, sentenced to pay fines, have paid out and are free. James Robison is in jail charged with selling mortgaged property and can't give bond. The witnesses didn't appear against him during court and it looks now like he will have to stay in jail until next court, unless he pays off the claim against him.

Lumpkin Superior Court.

The fall term closed its session on Saturday morning. It was a very busy one and the dockets could not be cleared this time on account of two damage suits taking up four days. Judge Kinsey stated that he would have held a portion of this week but was compelled to go to Rabun to convene a call session for the purpose of trying a murder case. The grand jury got through its business on Friday at noon.

The following is the remainder of the proceedings of court to wit:

Chester Parites Co. vs. Cavender Creek G. M. Co., petition for injunction. Verdict for plaintiff.
